Freak Electrical, Rain And Wind Storm General Over State

TWO LIVES TAKEN SURVEY REVEALS

Damage Heaviest In Southeastern Pennsylvania—Local Area Hit

(International News Service)

A freak electrical, rain and wind storm swept over Pennsylvania early today, resulting in the deaths of two men and hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage.

Lightning fired a $75,000 blackboard mill near Penn Argyl in the eastern section and was believed responsible for a $50,000 lubricating factory fire near Pittsburgh. Several other structures were fired by lightning.

Traffic Impeded

Roads and bridges were washed out by the heavy rains and traffic impeded. Telegraph and telephone lines were uprooted and streets in several cities were choked with debris.

Residents in many sections of the state saw a brilliant electrical display which illuminated the heavens for several hours. Damage was heaviest in Southeastern Pennsylvania and comparatively light in the central section. The Pittsburgh region suffered heavy damage.

Street Paving Program Is Apparently Not To Be Approved

Indications are the city of New Castle will not fare so well if the action of the WPA in returning to the city, suggested projects, is any criterion, the rejections having been received today by City Engineer Glenn R. Throop, who later reported the status of the proposals to council.

It was explained that any one project, which would cost more than $25,000, could not be done, which means that the prospect of major projects being put through are other than bright.

City In Path Of Terrific Storm

Repeated Lightning Thrusts Mark Wind And Rain Storm Last Night

SOME DAMAGE IS REPORTED HERE

Marked by vicious lightning thrusts, and a heavy wind, a storm swept over the New Castle district last evening, leveling corn fields, tearing limbs from trees, and causing considerable damage. There was also some hail noted.

The first storm was followed by several others in rapid succession.

There was not so much rain in the city, but north of New Castle considerably more must have fallen. The Shenango river rising a foot this morning, while the Neshannock was also higher.

While many cornfields were rolled flat by the sweeping wind, it is believed that the damage will not be heavy to this crop.

In spite of the severity of the electrical storm service interruptions were limited to relatively few localities according to a survey made by the Pennsylvania Power company attaches today.

Lines Are Struck

High tension lines and distribution circuits were struck by lightning repeatedly but in the majority of cases, lines were automatically reclosed and interruptions were limited to a minute or less.

In several cases the presence of power company emergency men at stragetic points in the system restored service after a short time and only in cases of transformer burnouts of fallen trees were the service outages of any length.

Modified Bill On Utilities Is Now Forecasted

Third Defeat Of "Death Sentence" In House Is Taken As Final

LITTLE CHANGE IN SENTIMENT SEEN

Vote On Issue Unaffected By Probe Of Lobbies At Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The administration today was reported willing to accept a modified utility bill which does not provide for dissolution of giant holding company structures.

This attitude was reflected in a statement by Chairman Rayburn of Texas of the house interstate commerce committee, who predicted some type of utility legislation would be enacted at the present session of congress.

Reject "Death Sentence"

Rayburn's announcement came after the house yesterday again refused to accept the holding company "death sentence" clause.

In refusing to instruct its conference committee on the utility bill to accept the senate's demands on inclusion of the "death clause", the house registered its opposition to the controversial provision for the third time within a month.

The three votes disclosed little change in sentiment by house members in regard to the "death sentence". Administration followers had hoped the revelations of the fake telegrams and "whispering campaigns" against the president would swing numerous votes to the administration camp.

Little Change In Sentiment.

On its first test of the "death sentence", a teller vote in committee of the whole, the house rejected the provision 216 to 146. Immediately afterwards, a move to substitute the senate bill, ordering holding company dissolution, was defeated 258 to 147. Yesterday's vote was 210 to 155 against the provision.

An analysis of the three votes showed that 59.9 per cent of those participating in the teller vote declared themselves opposed to the provision. A total of 63 per cent voted against substitution of the senate bill while 57 per cent turned down the death sentence yesterday.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Both Italy and Abyssinia today rejected a plan of procedure for debating the Italo-Abyssinian quarrel which had been proposed at Geneva, according to an exchange telegraph dispatch received here.

Reuter's news agency reported the League of Nations would meet informally and secretly at 6:30 p. m.

GENEVA, Aug. 2.—Charting a possible pathway to peace in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, Italy, Great Britain and France today agreed upon a three-power parley to consider the entire East African problem.

After 24 hours' deliberation, Premier Benito Mussolini advised the League of Nations of his acceptance of the major points in a resolution drafted as a desperate effort to avert war.

He agreed to appointment of a fifth member of the league's conciliation commission, whose task will be to liquidate the various frontier incidents which have led to strained relations between Italy and Ethiopia.

Immediately upon receipt of Il Duce's favorable reply, the British and French delegates here reiterated their willingness to attend a tripartite conference, which is expected to be held in France shortly.

ROME, Aug. 2—Premier Benito Mussolini determined to show the world the League of Nations cannot swerve him from his determined course in Africa, today decided to call more Italian troops to the colors for colonial duty.

The move was decided upon this morning and probably will be announced tonight or tomorrow, it was learned, and will be timed purposely to coincide with the league's Geneva session as a warning that Italy's course already has been mapped.

Il Duce, it was said in high quarters, is anxious to convince the world "of the futility of Geneva peace parleys and of parliamentary verbiage."

Attorney Declares He Will Seek Liberty On Court Procedure

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2.—Dapper Justice of the Peace James J. Westwood of McKees Rocks languished in jail today because he refused to allow county authorities to question him with a "lie detector" about the murder of his wife, Martha.

Attorney M. Barney Cohen, hastily retained by Westwood when the "lie detector" tests began, announced he will seek his client's release on a writ of habeas corpus today.

District Attorney Andrew T. Park ordered Westwood jailed when he refused to submit to questioning after five other witnesses, among them Bertha Westwood, the squire's 19-year-old daughter, had again told their stories as the wavering needle of the "lie detector" recorded their emotions. Park declined to discuss the results of the re-questioning. . .

"The lie detecting machine is not legal evidence and I refuse to permit my client to subject himself to such a test," Cohen asserted, in ad-

ELKINS, W. Va., Aug. 2.—Captured in an abandoned brickyard shanty here, Clyde Sharp, 21, was to be returned to Marlinton today to face charges of slaying his grandmother and uncle and robbing them of a small amount of money.

A. O. Harper, a state trooper, who trailed the youth through the mountains, said Clyde admitted killing his grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Sharp, 73, and his Uncle William, 42, with an iron bolt more than a foot long in their isolated farmhouse near Marlinton. With Clyde when he was found by Harper was his younger brother, Raymond, 9, who had been missing from the farmhouse since the tragedy was discovered.

Clyde said he took $15 from his uncle's pockets and a small amount of silver coins he found under the mattress of his grandmother's bed, according to Harper, who followed the youth's trail more than 60 miles over mountainous territory. Harper said the youth averred he did not "mean" to kill the couple but only sought money.

According to Harper, the youth went to the farmhouse last Sunday and remained there until the BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 2.—Here is rather an amazing statement. It didn't get much publicity in the press, but it was in there. It was made by the president (who has access to the records and must know).

"Fifty-eight of the richest people in the United States paid no federal tax on 37 per cent of their incomes."

This soaking the rich has got two sides to it. Roosevelt gets him a pack of humorously called "brain trusters" t help him devise ways and means of trying to get at this extra 37 per cent. And the rich get them some lawyers that ar just as smart as Roosevelt's tribe, and their job is to cook up an antidote. So up to now most of the soaking has been done in the papers and not at the cash register.

Potters Prepare For Big Picnic

All Arrangements For Shenango Pottery Outing Saturday Complete

CASCADE PARK TO DRAW THRONG

By all the rules it shouldn't rain Saturday, Aug. 3. The particular reason why it shouldn't rain is that the employes of the Shenango Pottery are holding their picnic in Cascade Park, and after all the moisture of the past three weeks it would be a handsome gesture for Jupiter Pluvius to lay off for a time.

In any event, the employes are going ahead with their preparations for a picnic, and with the weather as it should be, the day will be a doozer, if you don't mind the use of the vernacular. A doozer is three degrees better than a lallipazazza.

All-Day Program

The program starts early in the day with sports, and works along through a program of dancing and floor show entertainment up to the evening. Prizes have been provided for the sport winners and there will be a drawing for employes only, which will result in a number of them carrying home something worthwhile.

Picnic meals will be served in the grove both at one in the afternoon and at six in the evening. The dancing starts at two and continues to five in the afternoon, and what few minutes are not dogeared for program will be spent in just having fun.

The plant will be closed all day for the picnic, and for one day the pottery employes will devote themselves to recreation.

SCHULTZ VERDICT IS FLAYED

Court Scores Jury Decision

Says Acquittal One That Shakes Confidence Of People In Justice

SCHULTZ PLANS TO GO TO NEW YORK

(International News Service)

MALONE, N. Y., Aug. 2—Acquitted of income tax evasion charges by the astounding verdict of an Adirondack jury last night, Arthur (Dutch Schultz Flegenheimer today announced his determination to return to New York from where he fled following his indictment.

The verdict, rendered after more than 28 hours of deliberation, was the first major setback the government has received in pursuing its policy of prosecuting public enemies as tax evaders.

Schultz declared that he would return to New York despite the fact that he is under indictment in the southern district of New York for conspiracy, growing out of tax evasion charges.

Stunning Verdict

He was delighted at the stunning verdict, and immediately became the center of a crowd of farmers mountaineers and villagers who cheered the verdict despite a terrific tongue lashing administered to the jury by Judge Frederick H. Bryant.

Judge Bryant, livid with rage, said:

"It is a verdict like this that shakes the confidence of law abiding people in the integrity of juries.

"It is apparent that you have reached a verdict based not on the evidence but for other reasons.

"You will go home with satisfaction, if it is a satisfaction, that you have rendered a blow against law enforcement and justice."

The government staff of prosecutors led by Martin Conboy who previously had announced his determination to "get" Schultz, were stunned by the verdict. They remained grimly silent and left the court room without saying a word.

First Trial Disagreement

Schultz's chief defense counsel, James M. Noonan, said that "it was the only fair verdict which could be reached."

In a previous trial last April, in Syracuse, Schultz won a jury disagreement.

Schultz reiterated a previous declaration that he intends to pay his income taxes regardless of the acquittal verdict. Government men said however, that he would be liable under civil proceedings.

A packed court room cheered the verdict while Judge Bryant sat angrily on the bench and rapped for order. Schultz said he intends to go to New York City to see his wife after he makes a couple of stops on the way. He remained at the village Elk's Club until early hours of the morning where he was the genial host to many of the townspeople.

SELF-GOVERNMENT GRANTED TO INDIA

tle fought in the British parliament for nearly eight years to bring to fruition Indian leaders' aspirations for partial independence as a move for dominion status within the British commonwealth of nations.

The bill produced the greatest flood of oratory in the history of parliament, running over 15,000,000 words.

The act itself, 105,000 words long, welds 1,100,000 square miles of British India and 700,000 square miles—600 states governed by native princes—into a gigantic federation.

Historical Event.

Autonomy for provincial governments is provided, with Britain remaining in control of defense, internal order and foreign affairs.

The ceremony of the signature was brief and simple. Before a gilded throne in the House of Lords, three crimson-robed peers, Lords Hailshal, Stanhope and Rhayder, acting under a king's warrant, gave the royal assent to the new constitution.

"Not since America seceded from Britain," one observer remarked, "has the world witnessed a political event of such historical magnitude."

afternoon are expected to result in complete agreement on all points, and a public session of the league council, may be held this evening.

Stave Off Hostilities

Observers indicated the agreement will at least stave off hostilities for a period of a month or six weeks, giving the abritration commission another lease of life and opening the way for settlement of the conflict by means of territorial or other concessions to Italy.

Meanwhile, some league officials continued to press for a personal meeting between Mussolini and Emperor Haile Selassie on neutral soil.

Some experts feel strongly the negotiations have been hampered by the fact Italian and Ethiopian delegates are constantly compelled to refer to Rome and Addis Ababa for instructions.

The personal presence of Mussolini and the emperor, it is felt, would lend tremendous prestige and authority to the deliberations. If they could sit at the same table, according to this belief, a way out of the impasse could easily be found.

It was admitted, however, that formidable difficulties stand in the way of such an arrangement.

A new clash between house and senate conferees over the presence of administration aides in the conference room was indicated by Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana, head of the senate conference committee.

Wheeler sharply criticized the house for authorizing its conferees to demand exclusion of outsiders from future conferences.

Rep. Huddleston (D) of Alabama, representing a majority of the house conferees, objected to the presence of Benjamin Cohen, PWA lawyer, and Dozier DeVane, power commission official, in the conferences. His request for authority to exclude the pair was approved by formal vote of the house.

"The house has no more right to tell the senate what they should do with respect to conferees than the senate has to tell the house conferees," Wheeler said. "The action of the house is unprecedented."

New Tax Issue Before House

Debate Brings Issue Of Tax On Small And Large Incomes

TO "TEST COURAGE" OF ADMINISTRATION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The clear-cut issue of whether Congress shall tax both small and big incomes in an effort to wipe out the huge treasury deficit was thrust before the House today in debate on the tax bill.

Rep. Taber (R) New York, announced that he would propose amendments taxing all classes "to test the courage of the administration".

Taber's program supplemented the announced decision of progressive groups of propose tax increases on the small income taxpayer.

Chairman doughton (D) North Carolina, of the Ways and Means committee, accepted the issue. He declared he would oppose taxes on the lower income groups.

"This bill is proof positive that you can tax the rich for every cent they have and still you can't raise enough money to meet the spending program of this administration," said Taber.

"I wonder if the administration has the courage to put on the taxes that must be put on to balance the budget. I will propose amendments and I dare the Democratic majority to vote for them."

Doughton defended the bill as a whole, declaring it imposes "no unjust, unbearable or unreasonable burden."

"This bill provides for raising revenue from those able to pay," he said.

"The small income classes are now paying more than their proportionate shares of taxes. As long as I am here I will oppose raising their taxes."

Doughton read a letter from G. W. Bell, director of the budget, placing government owned assets as of June 30 at $4,428,082,000.

These assets, Doughton said, will help to reduce the debt. He also quoted Bell as saying that the drought of last year cost the government over $500,000,000.

STORM SWEEPS PENNSYLVANIA; MUCH DAMAGE

an unidentified peddler seeking shelter from the storm in nearby Bairdford was found dead.

In Western Pennsylvania

Lightning and storms of near-cloudburst proportions swept over the western sections of the state taking a heavy toll in property damage and resulting in the deaths of two men.

Investigations were underway to determine whether a $50,000 fire that destroyed a plant of the Universal Lubricating Systems, Inc., in suburban Oakmont area was caused by lightning. Many other buildings were struck in the severe electric storm and flooded conditions were general.

Damage by the storm was expected to reach $100,000 in the Cambria-Somerset county area. Bridges and roads were washed out and cellars flooded. Although a number of dwellings were struck by lightning, no casualties were reported. Damage amounting to $20,000 was caused at the New Northfolk Country club. Johnstown streets were filled with stone and debris, while several LWD projects were washed out.

Severe rains lashed the districts between Pittsburgh suburbs and Butler. Communication was interrupted as telephone lines were broken in the storm. Trees were blown down and traffic was halted by the deluge, with many motorists becoming stranded.

Struck By Lightning

Heavy damage was reported in Westmoreland county districts following the storm. The Derry Station bridge over the Pennsylvania railroad crossing was struck three times by lightning, and a high tension electric wire was knocked down.

At Jacktown, near Irwin, wires were torn down while hail and heavy rain caused extensive damage to gardens and crops in the east and north ends of the county.

Southeastern Pennsylvania surveyed an estimated $300,000 damage in wrecked homes, burned farm buildings, inundated roads and uprooted electric lines and trees in the wake of the season's worst electrical storm.

Freak electrical storms, accompanied by driving rains, deluged many Central Pennsylvania points but damage was considered slight. In Lock Haven, half a dozen poplar trees were skinned of bark from top to bottom but left standing. Several roofs were damaged.

The Buffalo to Pittsburgh highway, south of Punxsutawney, was blocked between 7 and 8 last night when the storm tore down two telegraph poles, hurling them across the highway. A truck caught between the two poles was held for an hour until they were removed. Streets in Punxsutawney were flooded. Streams rose. No damage, other than that of uprooted poles and dirt washed from fields onto the highway was reported. No one was injured.

Summer colonists in the Ligonier-Kingston district in Westmoreland county reported many terrifying experiences as the Loyalhanna creek, lined by scores of summer homes, rose to the level of its banks and overflowed into some properties.

The family of William Lampropolos was marooned on an island in a cottage in the midst of the raging Loyalhanna. Four feet of water inundated a private road leading to the island. Mill creek in the west end of Ligonier overflowed and covered the Lincoln highway to a depth of several feet in the bottom lands there. No one was reported injured.

CHICAGO POLICE NOT TRICKED BY SUICIDE "FAKE"

however, he admitted it was his son and Mandeville was taken away.

The father was on the verge of collapse after finally admitting the prisoner's identity.

Police regretted that Mrs. Louise Schaffer Bauer, widowed by the murder as she was preparing for her honeymoon, had gone to Cleveland for the funeral services.

They believed that the sight of the girl would break down Zenge's tight-lipped silence.

Zenge, jilted suitor of Mrs. Louise Schaeffer Bauer, pretty 23-year-old night superintendent of nurses at a Kirksville hospital, had made suicide threats before leaving his home July 23, Lieut Erlanson said.

Mrs. Bauer, who married Dr. Bauer 19 days ago after being courted by Zenge for seven years, attempted to commit suicide yesterday morning just before she was to testify at the inquest, by leaping from a window of her twelfth story hotel room, it was learned last night.

She was restrained by chief of police Jim Bowles of Kirksville, who accompanied her here, and was put under the constant guard of a police matron.

The widow was to have met her husband in Ann Arbor, where he was taking post graduate courses at the University of Michigan, for a belated honeymoon today.

It was from his Ann Arbor hotel that Dr. Bauer was kidnaped Tuesday afternoon by a mysterious stranger registered at the same hotel as "E. L. Jones."

"Jones" has been identified from photographs as Zenge, by the clerk and manager of the hotel.

Dr. Bauer was forced to drive his abductor to Chicago, where in a lonely southside alley he was tied hand and foot and the emasculation performed with a penknife.

LOCAL TEACHERS VISITING ALASKA

Ordinarily one thinks of Alaska as being a country of icebergs (a pleasant thought this torrid weather), but according to word received from a party of local teachers there at this time, the weather is delightfully pleasant, not at all freezing.

In the group which landed at Cordova, Alaska, a few days ago, are Misses Marian Campbell, Margaret Beeher, Los Kerr nd Helen McQueen, all local teachers. They left New Castle by motor about a month ago, for Seattle, Wash., from which place they sailed. Camping along the route was a distinct outdoor pleasure, going up, and they expect to do likewise on the return trip overland. They will be home for the opening of school in September.

The occasion was most enjoyable, and dinner was served at 7 o'clock in the grove, at tables nicely appointed in tones appropriate to the season. A lrage bouquet of summer flowers in dresden shades graced the center.

After partaking of the delectables one of their number, Mrs. Wayne Porter, nee Emmy Lou Smith, was taken by surprise when presented with a handsome electrical gift to use in her new home, in behalf of those gathered.

The major part of the evening's program had been carried out to the fullest and the girls had started for home, when the rain poured down heaviest; thus, it didn't interefere with the success of the evening.

MUSSOLINI WILL DECIDE

IF THERE is the slightest disposition on the part of Mussolini to compose his differences with Ethiopia, the League of Nations Council, now in session, offers the way for a peaceful settlement. But if he is bent on war he will have it, league or no league. His greatest obstacle would be financial.

Predatory nations are not bothered by treaties. Germany set the fashion of making them scraps of paper when, in 1914, although bound to respect the neutrality of Belgium, she invaded that country and thereby forced Great Britain into the conflict. Since then we have had the Versailles Treaty, with its League of Nations and the Kellogg Pact—the pact which outlaws aggressive warfare. But predatory Japan, with its eye on Manchuria, defied the league, of which it was a member, and tore up the Kellogg Pact, to which it had pledged its adherence; marched its armies over the borders and set up a puppet government.

And now we have Italy with its eye on Ethiopia and Mussolini obsessed with the dream of conquest. A League of Nations won't stand in his way, a Kellogg Pact won't bother him in the slightest if he makes up his mind to carry on to the finish. His will be the decision.

IT'S EPIDEMIC

A CCC lad, far from accustomed scenes and thrown in with none but strangers, became so overwhelmingly homesick the camp physician ordered him a furlough, sent him on a visit to his mother and sent the parent a not saying the young fellow was suffering from "acute nostalgia."

The emergency conservation bureau recently received a claim from the mother for damages under the United States employees' compensation act, alleging that her son had never suffered from nostalgia before leaving home. There is no question but that the government will disallow the claim. To do otherwise would set a dangerous precedent.

If homesickness in new deal surroundings is a compensatable ailment, then the administration will have claims enough against to exhaust the treasury. Probably Carter Glass would be plaintiff No. 2.

THE SAFE DRIVER

Who is he? Where is he? As a matter of fact, most drivers today are safe drivers. Fortunately the other kind are comparatively few, but what a heap of trouble they cause!

Follow a safe driver for a mile or so and you will probably observe that:

He is alert.
He is sober.
He stays in line.
He doesn't speed.
He drives carefully
He observes traffic signals.
He plays fair with other drivers.
He slows down when approaching schools.
He knows his signals and always uses them.
He shows full consideration to pedestrians.
He knows the road ahead is safe before he passes other cars.
He is, apparently, always prepared for the emergencies of the road.

NOW IT'S AUGUST

For many the time has come to talk of many things—except work. By common consent in this latitude August is vacation time. There may be blessed social circles that are not restricted to the month in seeking recreation, but as a general rule August is letting-down time for most.

There is inspiration to be gained on a Friday afternoon or Saturday morning in contemplating the young people who are headed by railroad, motor car or bus for that land that can be summarized in The Great Outdoors. It is significant that one of the zodiacal signs of the season is the Lion, for lion-like indeed is the young man about to embark on his two weeks of marauding among the members of the fair sex, who, incidentally, are quite able to do a bit of marauding themselves. The lilies of the field have to look to their laurels in contemplating the Younger Generation when about to step forth on the annual hegira. One has to do so much in such a limited time.

It is not the time to consider the "cottage people," a rarefied stratum of humanity beyond the hopes of the ordinary Young Person. Rather may thought be bent toward the two-weekers of the land, to whom August may mean anything in the way of adventure, romance. Labor Day is, of course, in the drab future, but why think of that now? August is here; time enough to deal with the Autumn and return to the job in due course.

GENTLEMEN IN POLITICS

In Frederick H. Gillett, as Elihu Root once remarked, it was "interesting to see the necessities of politics struggling with the instincts of a gentleman."

No better picture of Gillett could be painted in words. He was from the beginning to the end of his long political career a Massachusetts gentleman who seemed somehow out of place in the game of practical politics.

Gillett, now dead at 84, started in the city council at Springfield, served in the legislature, went to the national house, became its speaker, served one term in the senate and spent his last years preparing the inevitable memoirs. As presiding officer of the house his service was sandwiched between that of Champ Clark and Nicholas Longworth, with neither of whom he had the slightest personal or official attribute in common.

Clark succeeded Cannon, famed in history as a "czar" in the speaker's chair, and was himself as little czarlike as he could afford to be and keep the house in order. Gillett tried to be the kind of speaker law contemplates, a dignified officer. Longworth was pretty much another czar, but was so popular with the membership that they seldom resented the fact.

True to all the Massachusetts traditions in politics, Gillett lived a useful life. He is remembered as one of the Republicans who in 1920 argued that the election of Harding to the presidency would be the surest way to get America into "a" League of Nations!—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE MEANEST THING I EVER DID

I have done my share of deeds that I regret, but think that this is the meanest I remember....I think that this is one for which I may blush the longest.

I was angry with the world and with myself, and by myself in the upper half of the house and wished to see no one until I was fit to live with other human beings.

But my small son knew of this. He loved his father and wished to be with him...And in my irritation, half hearing and half not-hearing, I heard him climbing the long stairs to me...A great triumph for him, climbing those stairs, to see his loving father, and to be gladly welcomed...So step by step, he climbed.

But when he came to the top step and stood there, smiling at me, I told him roughly that I did not want him there...Go down, I said, go away. Your father doesn't want you.

And he burst into tears....and could not believe that I, his father, could say such a thing, that I did not want my small son at my side ...and turned and, weeping, crawled down the long stairs again.

But held no grudge against me... and soon was back again, climbing the stairs, running down the hall to watch his father shave, and to be a beloved nuisance by his father's side. ...He has forgotten that rebuff. It meant less to him, I hope, than it meant to me....I am still his friend, still one he loves. But I am no less ashamed because of his young forgiveness.

I have read of a father who held out his arms to his son and said: "Jump, son," and when he jumped the father let him fall to the ground and hurt himself. When the man was asked why he had done it, he replied: "This is a hard world and I am teaching my son to trust no one in it, not even his own father."

A monstrous fellow, you say.... But I taught my own son to expect love from me at all times, and then I thrust him roughly from me.... Am I so different from that other father?

THE BOY WHO COULDN'T ADD

I wasn't made for ledger books! I tried them once, but, oh.
The figures all went dancing up and down the lengthy row.
The fours and fives were madcaps and the eights and nines were glum,
And every time I ran them down
I got a different sum,
And soon the grave accountant said:
"It's plain as plain can be
You have no head for figures and you are no help to me."

The man who wrote them in the book had such a steady hand,
In single file and double file the numbers neat would stand.
The two's and three's obeyed his will; in ordered columns trim,
Like little boys who sing in choirs
the figures seemed to him,
But when the ledger came my way,
like imps with ghoulish glee,
They danced and skipped the pages round and noses thumbed at me.

I tried the very best I could to keep them all in line;
But seven would smirk in such a way I thought that it was nine.
The fives would up and run away.
Although I did my best,
I couldn't do a thing with them
when they were four abreast,
And so the grave accountant said:
"I'm sorry for you, lad,
You'll never make a business man until you learn to add."

DON'T MAGNIFY SMALL TROUBLES.

If you desire sympathy, don't be a chronic gambler. If you complain at every little ache and pain, you cannot expect people to hail your arrival with cheers.

It is probable that you do not get the attention you should receive from those around you, because of their knowledge that you are inclined to exaggerate your discomforts.

It is easy to get into the way of magnifying the seriousness of your troubles, and it follows that the more serious you think them, the worse they become.

Most folks have attacks, at times, that mean more or less pain or discomfort. For the human machine wears out, like any other kind of machinery.

Frequently recurring or serious pains, for which you cannot account, should lead you to consult your family physician.

But occasional little aches and pains are to be expected, because it is painful just to live and carry on as you are intended to do in this world.

So why think about it?

Understand health problems, follow health rules and forget small physical discomforts.

LIFES LITTLE AGONIES

Former Mayor Mackey of Philadelphia, addressing the city Business club, told the story of an Englishman and a German, who were arguing heatedly, ast to the merits of the navies of their respective countries. Each claimed that his country's navy was the largest in the world.

As they were disputing an Irishman came up, and after listening to them a minute, broke in with: "Why you're both wrong. Ireland has the greatest navy in the world."

The other scoffed at him, and the German said: "Where is that navy? I would like to see it."

"You don't suppose I'd tell you, do you?" retorted the Irishman. "How do I know you aren't spies?"

During the pastorate of Henry Ward Beecher in Indianapolis he preached a series of sermons upon drunkenness and gambling, incidentally scoring the men of the community who profited by these sins.

During the ensuing week he was accosted on the street by a would-be assistant, pistol in hand, who demanded a retraction of an utterance made the preceding Sunday.

"Take it back right here!" he demanded with an oth, "or I will shoot you on the spot!"

"Shoot away!" was the preacher's response, as he turned and walked calmly down the street, hurling over his shoulder this parting remark: "I don't believe you can hit the mark as well as I did."

UP-TO-DATE War Poem

The poets are already working overtime to grind out poems for the expected war between Japan and Russia. Here is one sent out just as a sample:

A soldier of the Russians
Lay Japanned at Tschrtzvkjskivitch.
There was lack of woman's nursing
And other comforts which Might add to his last moments
And smooth the final way—
But a comrade stood beside him
To hear what he might say.
The Japanned Russian faltered
As he took that buddy's hand,
And he said: "I never more shall see
My own, my native land.
Take a message and a token
To my friends who are far off,
For I was born at Smnlyxrskgqxzski,
Fair Smnlyxrskgqxski on the Irkztruzkimnov."

REPEAL HITS PESTS

California fruit growers are thanking repeal of the 18th Amendment for the marked decrease in the number of raisin moths in the Western orchards this year. During prohibition large quantities of surplus grapes were left on the vines to rot and they formed an ideal breeding place for the larvae of the moth. Now, however, with wine-making once more legal the surplus grapes find their way to the wineries and so no longer serve as food for the growing pests.

The World At A Glance

Farmers Worry Wall Street. Revolt Against Tariff Alarms. More Investigations Planned.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—It is not labor that will give Wall Street a fright during the coming year, but agriculture. Strikes are more in the public eye, but Wall Street usually can get the better of strikes.

Agriculture is another matter. It is agriculture that wields the chief oppositionistic power against financial America in election years.

And Wall Street believes that financial America may be in for serious trouble because of an error in judgment that it made.

It was "all right" to attack the New Deal as socialistic, fascistic, communistic and unconstitutional all the way down the line—except in one instance, processing taxes. But somehow or other nobody thought of that until too late.

Now the farmers are fighting mad. There may be 30,000 Comunists in the United States, as the Communists claim, but there are approximately 33 million farmers and dependents.

And now see what Texas farmers have started—a suit to test the constitutionality of protective tariffs for industry! Five other states have promised aid.

Yes, the radical states are not the industrial states, but the farm states —the 100 per cent American states.

REVOLT SPREADS

Financial New York, in fact, sees the spreading of revolt. It is not so happy as rising security prices would indicate.

For one thing, it can't raise a defender. Ordinarily, it is no trouble at all a year prior to an election to have one presidential candidate ready, to present its side. This year nobody with a real name will step forward to uphold its cause.

Worse, it sees strongholds tottering.

Rumors are seeping in from Virginia that New Deal Democrats are uniting there to break the Glass-Byrd rule.

And in Maryland, where support was strong in the "Stop Roosevelt" movement, Representative Goldsborough has been applauded for a strong speech in congress, in which he uttered these defiant phrases:

"Only this morning it came to my notice that a systematic effort has begun on the part of the great bankers of New York to coerce the house in turn to coerce its conferees into accepting the senate omnibus banking bill. . . .

"All the pressure that Wall Street can bring to bear upon the house indirectly through the banking association and the banks is going to be brought. . . .

"Under the senate bill control of the people's money is to be in the hands of 12, certain members of which must be bankers, whose interest it is to have the people's money as scarce as possible and cost as much as possible.

"You can reach your own conclusion as to the influences which surrounded the senate committee (under Senator Glass) in writing a provision of that kind into a bill."

NO LET-UP

But, worse than ever for Wall Street, there will be no let-up in the "warfare" on it wher congress adjourns.

Money is being voted readily for investigations. The lobby investigations will take up banking and railroad lobbies following the investigation of utilities lobbies.

One utilities company spent more than a million dollars fighting the holding company bill—and its dominant personality disappeared before he could be called. In the meantime, it was learned he had gleaned $2,8000,000 from his interests in the last few lean years. Yet, Washington observers say, that may be as nothing compared to disclosures yet to come.

TAXES, TOO

Nor is Wall Street fooled concerning future taxes. Despite all the hullabaloo concerning the present tax bill, financial New York realizes that this may be merely the beginning. The fight against it is stiff now because the more intense the fight is at present the more likely it is that the ultimate peak, next year or the year following, will be less. A child often cries prior to a spanking in order to lessen the spanking.

But the present gift taxes hurt. They shut out loopholes. It isn't that corporations and 'big men" will stop giving to community funds so much as they cannot escape taxation by handing down securities to relatives and trusts.

All in all, if you ask financial New York who is to be feared more, Roosevelt or Stalin, the answere is Roosevelt.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NO HANDSHAKING.

Being presented to King George and Queen Mary of England is much more than merely an introduction followed by a bow or handshake. There is no hand shaking at all.

First, all "candidates" for a presentation must meet at the American Embassy in London, and be instructed in how to comport themselves before British royalty. They must practice two kinds of curtsies, one to be used before both king and queen and the other in case only one member of the royal couple is present.

Knowing how to do the "single" curtsy came in handy for a group of Americans presented at the Buckingham Palace last month. King George, ill with catarrh, could not be present, so the Queen had to receive the Americans alone.

Shareholders Urged To Act

President Of General Mills, Inc., Suggests Action To Protect Rights

CONSTITUTION IS QUESTION OF HOUR

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 2.—Survival of American Democracy hinges on uncompromising resistance to "those in authority who sneer at and disregard" the constitution, Donald D. Davis, president of General Mills Inc., declared today in commenting on the report of James L. Bell, the concern's board chairman, urging shareholders to take such political action as would assure protection of their "rights, liberties, property and investments."

Davis said:

"While it is entirely proper for individuals and groups to hold honest differences of opinion on various 'issues', if our form of government is to survive there should be no compromise with those in authority who sneers at and disregard the provisions of our constitution".

Huge Federal Tax

With specific regard to processing taxes on wheat, company officials asserted these levies have resulted in the equivalent to the consumer of a federal tax on flour of from 15 to 20 per cent.

Bell's report, calling stockholders' attention to the role of "custodians" of their property held by company directors, is prefaced with this warning:

"Theirs is the duty of safeguarding your investment; to employ it gainfully in productive enterprise. They have successfully served you over a period of seven years. They have dealt fairly and generously with your employes. They have produced wealth and distributed it.

"Your directors wish to put you on notice that the promise of future performance implied in the record of the past is menaced by the policies and methods of legislation, taxation and expenditure upon which the governor is embarked."

Governmental Invasion

Citing alleged governmental invasion of financial, economic and social fields in competition with private enterprise, Bell's report indicts the administration thusly:

"It has engaged in the vast program of experimentation, regulation, restriction and regimentation of producer, processor and consumer. It has embarked upon the expenditure of billions of dollars in unproductive works and services. It has imposed discriminatory and burdensome processing taxes which limit consumption, distort competition and restrict profit opportunity. It is proposing new and unequal taxation which will impair efficiency and reduce purchasing power."

Government Responsible

Pointing out that while directors are responsible to investors for commercial activities, the government likewise is responsible for "the proper duties and functioning of government," Bell said:

"It is your responsibility to protect your company and yourself from the undue invasions or impositions of the government."

Bell declared the government is demanding imposition on investors in great organizations taxes 75 per cent higher than those placed on shareholders in small companies. He observed:

"The iniquity of this lies in the fact that the small investors in big companies would be subject to higher taxes than rich investors in smaller companies.

"We are to be punished for our success . . . Apparently the government is bent on the impairment of those enterprises from which the wealth of the nation has flowed..."

Widow Pays Debt, And House Burns

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Aug. 2. Mrs. Martha Adams, widowed mother of three children, went to a bank and laid down the final payment on her small home.

She returned home, put the coffee pot on the stove, and went to the store. A half hour later she found her home in flames.

The building was destroyed. It was insured, but Mrs. Adams lost hundreds of cans of vegetables and fruit set aside for the winter. Firemen said the stove exploded.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS SHOW NO CHANGE

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2—There was no change in the total number of school districts in Pennsylvania during the school year 1934-35, the Department of Public Instruction officials today reported. The new fiscal year started July 1 with a total of 2583 districts in the State.

Pennsylvania school districts are divided into four classes as follows: two districts of the first class, Population of 500,000 or more, the two being the city districts of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh: twenty districts of the second class, population of 30,000 to 500,000: 257 districts of the third class population of 5000 to 30,000 and 2304 districts of the fourth class, population of less than 5000.

HARRISBURG—Trained nature guides and recreation leaders are now located in 15 of the state forest parks throughout Pennsylvania as the result of a SERB education project instituted by the department of public instruction, with the cooperation of other state departments, including forests and waters, health, and the game and fish commissions.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Field representatives of the State Health Department's division of inspection are now engaged in an intensive drive against violators of quarantine. Agents are investigating quarantine complaints involving prematurely removed signs and alleged contacts with the public forbidden by law. In the more flagrant cases prosecutions are being instituted. Warnings and personal instructions are effective in most cases.

Agents of the division are visiting the new registrars of vital statistics of which there are approximately 600. This activity involves instruction in the department's requirements and supplements information received directly from the bureau of vital statistics.

Britain May Hire Women Corps To Catch Smugglers

(International News Service)

LONDON—American women plotting to smuggle anything into England may have to face a new terror—women customs officials.

With the smuggling of finery and other dainty feminine treasures into this country showing no signs of waning, the British government is considering setting women to watch women.

The proposal is being enthusiastically supported by feminine government workers here, because this has been the one branch of the home civil service barred to women.

Women apparently cannot resist the temptation of buying clothes in Paris nor the thrill of trying to ease them into these islands without further expense. Single fines of as much as $5,000 have been imposed on women smugglers in the last few months and $500 fine are common.

Having been postponed twice, fandom here hopes that J. Pluv' will remain in the background and give Ol' Sol an opportunity Sunday when the East Side Civics of Youngstown and the American Sheet & Tin Plate teams meet in a benefit game at Centennial field.

Bonnie Patton Defends Texas Representative In "Cigar Box Gift"

REFUTES STORY TOLD COMMITTEE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—A winsome 17-year-old girl, Bonnie Patton, today took the witness stand in the House rules commitee utility lobby investigation and defended her father, Representative Nat Patton (D) Texas, against suspicions arising from a gift of cigars from a power company official.

Bonnie told the investigators that she had been "worried over the newspaper headlines about daddy."

Both the House committee and the Senate group which is conducting a parallel inquiry, recently heard testimony by E. V. Sellers, a friend of Patton, and former utility representative in Texas, which raised doubts as to the contents of a box given Patton by John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Light and Power Co.

Shortly after Patton had received the mysterious box of cigars, Bonnie testified, Sellers took her to a motion picture show.

"After we came out of the show," she said, "I asked Mr. Sellers to buy a newspaper because I was worried about the headlines concerning daddy. He said there was nothing to worry about and he told me:

"'I know they were cigars because I smoked one myself.'"

Norris Shook, Patton's nephew, preceded his cousin to the stand. He cotradicted testimony by Sellers, who said he had discussed whether the box contined cigars with him. Shook said he never discussed the contents of the box with Sellers.

Lightning Bolt Stuns Youth On His Way Home

(International News Service)

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Aug. 2.—Dave Barnett, 12, who was struck by lightning in last night's electrical storm, was as well as ever today but "full of lightning."

Returning from a swim with two buddies, Dave was rendered unconscious by a bolt on the outskirts of the city. The other three boys were hurled to the ground but got up unhurt. Dave failed to move.

His pals hailed a passing car and took him home where a physician examined him. The physician found no injuries and Dave regained consciousness, apparently none the worse.

80th Division Vets In Session

Convention At Wheeling W. Va., Swing Into Business Routine Today

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 2.—Opening formalities concluded, delegates to the 16th annual convention of the veterans of the 80th (Blue Ridge) division here today got down to actual business.

Committees were appointed, reports read and a meeting place for next year's convention was discussed. Richmond, Va., was considered the most favored site for the reunion next year of war buddies from Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Word was given the veterans that National Commander E. G. Peyton opposed discussion of the troublesome bonus question at the convention.

"I'm still a soldier and an obedient one," Commander Peyton explained. "My commander-in-chief—President Roosevelt—vetoed the bonus measure passed by congress this year and that to me is an order."

Many entertainments were scheduled for this afternoon and evening. The big parade will take place tomorrow and the convention will close officially on Sunday with memorial services.

Motorists Will Be Given Instructions For Driving Safely

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—A campaign to educate Pennsylvania automobile drivers to the rules of safe driving was started today by the Department of Revenue, designed to extend into every local community and to the press, screen, radio and pulpit.

Detailed plans for the educational drive will be laid at a meeting here August 7 called by the state's new secretary of revenue, Harry E. Kalodner. Heads of safety groups, automobile clubs and civic organizations of all kinds were invited to attend the session.

Traffic Heavy

The crusade will continue during the period of heaviest vacation traffic, Kalodner said, after which recommendations for safety legislation and administrative policies of the department will be formulated. State police, highway patrolmen and the Department of Highways will co-operate in the drive.

"The object of this campaign will not be to make more arrests, but to educate motorists and bring forcefully to their attention the need for careful driving," Kalodner explained. "At the same time, however, there will be no relaxation of vigilance in the prosecution of drunken and reckless driving."

Utility Head Is Sought In Probe

House Rules Committee Would Like To Question Associated Gas Leader

CLUE GIVEN BY CHIEF LOBBYIST

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Investigators for the House rules committee today reported they were "hot on the trail" of H. C. Hopson, head of the giant Associated Gas and Electric System, who is wanted for questioning by the Senate committee inquiring into utilities lobbying.

A clue to Hopson's whereabouts was given the House group yesterday by Bernard B. Robinson, suave and immaculately attired Chicago securities dealer, who acted as chief lobbyist for the A. G. and E. during the hectic battle over the holding company "death sentence".

Robinson informed the committee Hopson had called him over the long distance telephone at a local hotel Sunday evening and advised the investigators to look for him either at Scarsdale, N. Y., or at Miami Beach, Fla.

William H. Collins, special attorney for the House committee which is conducting a parallel inquiry to that of the Senate group, immediately subpoenaed telephone records of the hotel and enlisted the aid of the telephone company in an effort to trace the call.

In the event that Hopson is found by the House commitee, Collins said he would not be turned over to the Senate investigators.

Collins intimated he was seeking to arrange a "deal" with Hopson to appear before his group instead of the Senate committee, headed by Senator Black (D) of Alabama.

Eckert Again Casts Vote For "Death Penalty"

Congressman Stands With President In Battle On Utilities

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 2.—Representative Charles L. Eckert of Beaver continued to stand by the president when the house of representatives on Thursday handed the administration two major defeats on the death sentence for holding companies.

By a 209 to 155 vote the house refused to accept senate action in amending the Wheeler-Rayburn holding company bill so as to provide mandatory death sentence for holding companies. Representative Eckert voted for the death penalty. President Roosevelt had demanded it.

By a 183 to 172 ballot the house voted to ban from senate and house conferences on the bill Benjamin Cohen, young brain truster who had prepared the death sentence legislation at the request of the White House. Congressman Eckert opposed the resolution ousting Mr. Cohen from the conferences. On both sides the lined up shoulder to shoulder with Roosevelt.

Bremen Flag Incident Now Closed Book

Germany Is Informed By United States Of Details Regarding Riot Over Flag

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Having curtly informed Germany, in effect that its own steamship line officers were partially to blame for defilement of the liner Bremen's Nazi flag by Communists, the American government today considered the matter a "closed incident."

The American reply to the German protest, against the action of New York Communists in tearing down the Nazi flag from the Bremen's bow last Friday night, made it clear that this government did not consider the New York police authorities were to blame in anyway either for the incident or for failure to provide adequate protection.

Neglect Not Shown

While describing defilement of the German flag as "unfortunate," the note said the incident "was in no sense due to neglect on the part of the American authorities."

It called attention to the fact that New York police authorities warned officials of the North German Lloyd Line that the Communists planned a demonstration and suggested the line curtail the number of visitors permitted to board the vessel.

Acting Secretary of State William Phillips, who signed the American note, invited "particular attention" to the fact that "the officers of the steamship line did not deem it necessary to adopt such measures."

Official Report

Accompanying the American note was a copy of the official report on the incident submitted to the state department by the New York police department. Phillips used this report as the basis for absolving American authorities of any neglect.

Phillips also called attention to the fact that a New York police officer, Matthew Solomon, was seriously injured in apprehending the ringleaders of the riot.

Rain Or No Rain, Kiwanians To Eat

Because old Jupiter Pluvius threatened all morning long to spoil tonight's stag outing of the Kiwanis club at the Foltz farm in Mercer county, Secretary L. C. Mantz issued this announcement for club members at noon:

"We will meet at The Castleton at 5 sharp, rain or no rain. There will be a lunch already prepared for us and if it is raining we will eat at the hotel."

James Mayberry is chairman of the committee which planned the outdoor program.

New Appointment For WPA Made Here

Announcement was made today by J. Vale Downie, director of district 14, Works Progress Administration, of the appointment of Thomas H. Javens of Rochester, Pa., as personnel officer for the administrative personnel of the administration.

Other announcements which will have to do with the county organization of the WPA will likely be made some time next week, it was intimated today.

Van Dyke Gives Road Number Key

Even Numbered Routes Travel East And West In State System

ODD NUMBERS NORTH AND SOUTH

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Vacation motorists who plan explorations along unfamiliar roads in Pennsylvania will have no trouble with route numbers, according to Warren Van Dyke, secretary of highways, in a brief explanation of the system of numbering given today.

This little understood key to the black numbers which adorn both the Keystone plate and the federal shield marking state and federal routes will simplify driving in strange districts and make even easier reference to the detail map of highways in the state which may be had without charge by application at room 312, State Highway department, Harrisburg.

Both federal and state routes—even the lesser roads leading to local districts—follow as much as possible the scheme of applying even terminal digits to east and west routes, and odd terminal digits to north and south routes. Thus Route 30, the Lincoln highway, crosses the state from east to west, while Route 11, the Lackawanna Tral, extends generally north and south.

Where roads are double marked—that is, where a section of the same road forms a part of two routes—two markers appear on the standards. In these cases where both are state routes the lower number is placed higher on the standard so that reading may be made naturally from top to bottom. In cases where one is a federal and the other a state route, the federal route marker takes the higher position regardless of number sequence.

CHICKEN THIEVES ARE SPARED ELECTROCUTION

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2.—Victimized by chicken thieves on a wholesale scale, farmers of this area decided to stop the raiding once and for all by electrifying their coops.

But officials of the West Penn Power Company stepped in to call a halt to the program of electrocution for preying chicken thieves. The company informed farm agents and farmers that service will be discontinued to any farm electrifying its coops.

Lawrence County Youths Are Home From CMTC Camp

Twenty-three Who Have Been In Training For Month At Fort Meade, Return

Fort George G. Meade was unusually busy on Wednesday when the 1935 citizen's Military Training camp broke and each of the 2700 young men returned to his home.

The camp closed on July 2nd and lasted until the 31st. During the thirty days training the boys learned about the school of the soldiers and the manual of arms. Monday morning the whole regiment went on a hike of five miles carrying full packs, less rations. Each battalion went separately going out two and a half miles, pitching tents, striking tents and returning in time for noon mess. Monday afternoon and Tuesday were taken up with a checking in most of the equipment.

All the 23 young men from Lawrence county returned in good physical condition, happy to be home and with glad remembrances of this year's camp and looking forward to next July.

This camp benefits New Castle not only in the better citizens who are turned out but also in that all the china ware from which the boys ate was manufactured for the U. S. Quartermaster by the Shenango Pottery.

On Court House Hill

Thomas Edmunds, clerk for the registration board, has sent out notices to all the registrars of the city to meet at the court house on Monday evening, August 5 at 7 p. m. Mr. Edmunds will give instruction as to the requirements for registration under the new permanent registration act. Most of the registrars are experienced but there are some features of the new act which need to be explained.

Copies of Superior court opinions in the cases of the First National bank of New Wilmington against Carrie D. Getty, administratrix of the late Howell T. Getty and Carl W. Nowalk, against Edward E. Hileman were received today at the prothonotary's office. The former case was before Judge Hildebrand in the local court and the latter before Judge James A. Chambers. Both judges were affirmed in their decisions. The superior court decisions were published several days ago.

Lawrence county, which has just been allotted $35,100 with which to pay pensions to the blind during the next two years, has 54 blind persons on the pension roll, according to Mrs. Walter Gilmore, in charge of the Mother's Assistance Fund board at the court house. The board also administeres the old age pensions. To date 325 have been awarded, and are receiving old age pensions. There are 50 more on which the investigations have about been completed and who will soon be receiving their checks. There are 805 whose applications have not yet been acted upon. The board also disburses the mothers pension fund. The number on the payroll now is 175.

County Commissioners are having repairs made to a bridge on the Mt. Jackson-Enon road, which was damaged during one of the recent storms.

Lawrence county beer distributors must apply for new licenses within the next week or ten days if they want to remain in business. Having just taken out licenses through County Treasurer William O. Pitts, on July 1, the distributors must apply to the Liquor Control board for the licenses available under the new state beer law.

The old licenses from $37.50 to $150, depending upon the size of the community in which the distributor operates. The new licenses will cost $400, for distributors and $900 for importing distributors. Under the new regulations, the present license holders will receive credit on their new license to the amount of money they spent to get their licenses on July 1.

Report of County Sealer of Weights and measures L. W. Houk, to the Department of Internal Revenue for the month of July has just been filed. It shows seven coal scales inspected and two adjusted fifteen platform scales inspected, one found incorrect and four adjusted. Twelve county scales, all correct. Eight spring balances, two adjusted. Forty-eight computing scales, five adjusted. Thirty two oil pumps examined were all found to be correct. Of fifteen gasoline pumps four needed adjustments. Thirty-five avoirdupois weights showed 4 incorrect and 4 adjusted. Of 350 packages of packaged goods all were found correct.

Commenting on the work of his department Mr. Houk said that it has been greatly increased in recent years, owing to the large number of new oil and gas pumps installed. One man used to serve both county and city but now there are two who divide the work,but do not receive any more salary than one used to receive. Thousands of dollars are saved consumers through the work of the inspectors.

WOULD HAVE LOTTERY MONEY KEPT AT HOME

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—Legalization of lotteries in the United States would keep millions of dollars each year from going abroad to Canadian and Irish sweepstakes and other millions from the hands of racketeer policy operators at home, according to Mayor Thomas Lamphier, retired U. S. army officer.

Lamphier is a member of the executive committee of the National Conference for Legalizing Lotteries. He came here to form a Philadelphia chapter of the organization.

"The ultimate object of legalization," he said, "would be to take care of relief and other charities. About 20 per cent of the proceeds of the lottery could be devoted to this purpose."

CAMP HEALTH

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Cooperating with the Department of Forests and Waters and the United States Army officers, engineers of the State Department of Health are assisting in the development of necessary sanitation measures and facilities connected with the establishment of the forty new C. C. C. camps in Pennsylvania. It is expected that this work will involve the full time services of several engineers during the remainder of the summer months.

Miss Hall convinced the court she is the daughter of the late Clara Mullinex and the only surviving sister of Arnold Hall, who lived here.

PRINCE ALEXIS MDIVANI CRASH VICTIM

Accident Occurs On Spanish Road

Car Overturns And Prince Is Instantly Killed—Woman Is Dying

CAR WAS GOING AT TERRIFIC SPEED

(International News Service)

BARCELONA, Spain, Aug. 2.—Alexis Mdivani's romantic career was ended in death today and a woman companion was dying, after the Georgian prince's automobile overturned on a mountain road near Albons.

Speeding at 85 miles an hour late yesterday to enable the woman to catch the Paris express train at Sigueras, the luxurious car apparently hit a rut in the road and overturned, crushing the occupants with terrific force.

Mdivani, divorced husband of the former Barbara Hutton, was believd to have been killed instantly.

An operation was performed on the woman at midnight in the Provincial hospital of Gerona, but her skull was fractured and practically no hope is held for her recovery.

She was a guest, with Mdivani, at the home of the prince's sister, Mme. Russie Sert, wife of the noted Catalonian painter, Jose Maria Sert, at Palamos.

Companion Unidentified.

She was believed to be a French woman, but her exact identity could not be learned. When she was suddenly summoned to Paris, Mdivani volunteered to rush her to the station.

Peasants saw the car racing along the mountainside, but it remained for a passing motor-car to come upon the overturned automobile. The prince was dead when his body was removed.

The body was left at the scene of the tragedy until the arrival of the district magistrate to conduct an examination on the spot.

His companion did not regain consciousness.

The Serts, as soon as they were informed of the accident, hurried to the village of Albons to take charge of the body. Members of the Sert household at Palamos could supply no details.

Alexis, who was 28 years old, and his two brothers, David and Serge, have had dramatic careers in society and the divorce courts, maintaining their princely mode of living, although their family wealth was lost in the bolshevik revolution.

Heads of the Mdivani family have borne the title of prince since it was conferred on a Georgian ancestor in 1752 for military exploits. Alexis' father had a tremendous fortune in Georgian oil properties, but this was swept away in 1917, when the two girls went to Paris and Alexis and his two brothers drifted to America.

Former Husband Of Barbara.

Alexis' first wife was Louise Astor Van Alen, daughter of Mrs. James Laurens Van Alen, and a direct descendant of John Jacob Astor. They were divorced at The Hague in 1932 after 18 months of marriage.

Barbara Hutton's romance with Alexis started on a round-the-world cruise, and they were married in Paris June 20, 1933.

Finally, after Alexis spent the winter playing polo in India while Barbara stayed in New York and London, their definite separation was announced. Charging desertion, she was granted a divorce at Reno in May, after reportedly giving Alexis a large financial settlement. Since then, the prince had spent most of his time in Spain.

Shortly after her divorce Barbara married Count Curt von Haugwitz-Reventlow of Denmark.

Today

Call From Tokio.

Mussolini Writes.

Another Strike Planned.

To Guard The Pacific.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE LEAGUE of Nations was "mildly excited" when the Abyssinian Representative Hawariate was called "long distance" FROM TOKIO. How much would Mussolini pay to know what was said in that telephone call?

Abyssinia's delegate didn't know who called him up". Abyssinia's diplomat has probably read Talleyrand's statement that language was given to let men disguise their thoughts. The Abyssinian representative may have been called by some Japanese newspaper, perhaps the Yomuiri Shimbun, a very enterprising Tokyo newspaper.

WHILE THE league talks, Mussolini leaves no uncertainty as to his plans, whatever the league may suggest or request.

His signed article, published in the Milan Popolo D'Italia, declares that Italy will enter Africa for colonization purposes, to assure the safety of Italian colonies there. "Abolishment of slavery is not our object," Mussolini writes, 'but it will be a logical consequence of our policy in Ethiopia."

HE ADDS, "Ethiopians do not consider themselves Negroes, but Semitic."

This may dampen the ardor of colored men in Harlem, New York City, now earnestly enlisting in the Abyssinian army.

Mussolini says he will not talk about promoting civilization, although such promotion would be the natural result of his action in Abyssinia.

At least, Mussolini is no hypocrit. I tells Pierre Benoit, the well known French journalist, who writes for Universal Service:

"The emperor of Ethiopia knows my resources as well as my intentions. It is for him to study the risk of such an adventure, and knowing the risk, to reach a decision."

GENEVA REPORTS dysentery among the Italian troops, with 15,000 incapacitated.

Sending men on foot to tropical Africa in this rainy season may have been a necessary part of Mussolini's "gesture", but wisdom would seem to indicate only operations from the air.

UNPLEASANT NEWS for Italy reports a British refusal to consider a war loan to Italy.

Whether the refusal is based on "moral reluctance," or on business common sense, is not certain.

THE EMPEROR of Ethiopia, displeased when England forbade shipping arms to his country, refused to supply extra guards for the British legation at Addis Ababa.

Britain accordingly sends from India a company of Eikhs, tall, reliable, determined bearded fighting men from the Punjab in India. The British trust them completely, as the Pope relies on his Swiss Guards, whose loyalty has been demonstrated through many generations.

MR. SAMUEL DARCY, American Communist party delegate at Moscow, tells the Communist Congress that Communists in the American longshoremen's union will seek to tie up shipping in the United States on a big scale, on the Pacific coast and in New York, Boston and New Orleans. The strike is planned for September, when a labor agreement with ship owners expires.

ANDREW FURUSETH, for many years past president of the International Seamen's Union, says concerning the proposed strike:

"I have asked the immigration authorities to investigate and deport the leaders. Most of them are aliens, in this country illegally. They take their orders from Moscow. We know that. The dispatches from Moscow in today's papers confirm our own information.

"These leaders are recklessly exposing their membership to jail sentences. They do not worry about the seamen's welfare. They are using the seaman as a tool to promote a revolution."

MR. SWANSON, secretary of the navy, says nothing will be decided about additional United States fortifications in the Pacific until two existing treaties expire.

Nevertheless, you may safely prophesy that President Roosevelt will establish at Guam, and Manila, such military air bases as will interest any government having shipping or other interests in that neighborhood.

THANKS TO Governor Lehman and Mayor La Guardia of New York, Thomas E. Dewey, able young lawyer, undertakes exposure and prosecution of racketeers that take at least a thousand million dollars annually from New York business men, big and little.

Mr. Dewey, on the radio, appeals to victims of racketeers to give him information and help wipe out the wholesale robbery.

The response to this request will let the public know how many New York business men are men and how many are mice.

THE GERMAN government apparently plans to deal with its Jewish citizens somewhat as was done in Russia under the czars, when Jews were forbidden to reside in big Russian cities.

Berlin warns "non-Aryans" against moving from the provinces to Berlin. That regulation did not work out well in Russia, as the late Czar, if he were alive, could testify.

Processing Tax Measure Is Hit

Federal Judge At Chicago Grants Temporary Injunction On Collection

TAKES MONEY FROM ONE; GIVES TO OTHER

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 2—Councel for 18 Chicago meat packers and Quaker Oats Co., and Washburn-Crosby Co. Inc. and government attorneys conferred today regarding the body blow dealt the New deal late yesterday by federal Judge John P. Barnes.

Judge Barnes joined a fast growing list of the judiciary when he issued a temporary injunction restraining the collector of internal revenue from enforcing collection of processing taxes on hogs, wheat and corn.

Under the order the government is enjoined from enforcing collections on accruing taxes, as well as from collecting some $7,500,000 in back taxes

In issuing the order Judge Barnes said he believed the processing tax is a direct violation of the fifth amendement to the constitution in that it constitutes "a deprivation of property without due process of law."

In his brief oral decision Judge Barnes stated:

"I think the plaintiffs have shown that this so-callled tax for the purpose of regulating agriculture had not been levied by any legislative power granted congress by the constitution.

Not Governmental Purpose

"I do not think this regulation of agricultural production is interstate commerce.

"It is not a governmental purpose to take money from the pocket of John Brown and put it into the pocket of John Smith, nor is it a government purpose when money is taken from the pockets of millions of John Browns and put into the pockets of millions of John Smiths.

"I do not think that this exaction on processes is a tax, and therefore cannot come under the provisions of section 3224 of the revised statutes which prohibits injunction because of the alleged unconstitutionality of a taxing statute."

United States Attorney Michael L. Igoe vigorously attacked the packers.

"They have no right to be here" he said waving his arm to indicate the imposing array of counsel for the 20 companies. "They come in waving the flag and making fun of the government.

"I don't care if the law is unconstitutional. They are trying to get the court to give them large sums of money they have no right to. They don't claim the money came out of their pockets. Either the producer or the consumer has the only just claim on the tax and no claims have been made in their behalf."

Make Visit Here From Ellwood, Ind.

Mr. And Mrs. Hugh Davies Are Guests—News Notes Of Interest To Welsh

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS
Brython

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Davies, Ellwood, Ind., are here this week for a visit with Mr. Davies brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. William M. Davies, South Jefferson street. For 40 years Mr. Davies has been a roller in the Ellwood tin plate works and it has been many a year since he visited his brother here.

Last Saturday evening an interesting Star of Wales lodge meeting took place with Thomas Grey, presiding. Secretary Thomas D. Thomas reported that David L. Harris, East Washington street, has been restored to his usual health and that he would be able to attend the annual convention of the order at Bangor, Pa., as a delegate from the Star of Wales lodge. The convention meets the first week of August.

Mrs. John Evans, Cleveland have returned home after a pleasant visit with friends here. She attended the union church service at Cascade park on July 28. Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Thomas and family, Park avenue, are on their vacation, but Mr. Thomas will return shortly to fill the puipit of the Emmanuel church. He resumes preaching August 11. Deacon William Pritchard, the county sheriff is on his vacation these days and expects to go to Alberta, Canada to visit a cousin.

The National Eisteddfod of Wales will be held this year at North Wales the home of the Rev. Rees T. Williams, during the first week of August. A great choir known to Welsh folk will participate this year.

Richard E. Johns, "Buddy" to his friends, the son of Prof. R. E. Johns, Park avenue, has recovered from an illness.

Brython was very pleased to meet William M. Williams Jr., and Prof. Thomas Jones here recently. They were leaving the New Castle hospital after a call on Mr. William's brother, confined there. Mr. Williams just returned from a trip to California. He reported also that he had been invited to sing at the Highland U. P. church on Sunday.

WILD CHERRY TREES AFFECTED BY BLIGHT

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 2.—Southwestern Pennsylvania's growth of wild cherry is suffering from a strange blight or insect attack that leaves scarely a green leaf on a tree, it has been reported here.

Trunks and branches, so far, have not been affected. In its attack on the leaves, however, the unknown scourge is not unlike the blight which killed the chestnut growth a few years ago. Farm bureau offices at Uniontown expressed the opinion the leaf "death" was caused by an insect ,although it was pointed out that no other vegetation was affected.

Urge Poisoning Of Beetle Grubs

HARRISBURG—As a protection to lawns against the ravages of Japanese beetle grubs in heavily infested areas, entomologists of the state department of agriculture recommend treating the soil with arsenate of lead.

Ten pounds of arsenate of lead per 1000 square feet of the lawn is said to be satisfactory and is probably the amount to use under most conditions. This can be applied either dry or with water. If applied dry, the arsenate should be well mixed at the rate of one (1) part of the poison to twenty-five (25) parts of slightly moist sand or sifted soil, and broadcast by hand. Arsenate of lead is a poison and must be handled with care. After broadcasting, it is advisable to wash the mixture into the soil with a garden hose if available.

EXPECT INCREASE IN SWINE TOTALS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2. — The probability of an increase in number of swine on Pennsylvania farms next year is shown by the recent pig survey made by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service in co-operation with rural mail carriers.

The number of sows expected to farrow between June 1 and December 1 this year is 14 per cent greater than during the corresponding period in 1934.

The number of pigs saved from litters this spring in the commonwealth was estimated at 255,000, a reduction of 3,000 from a year ago due to 2,000 fewer sows farrowing but the number of sows to farrow this fall is estimated at 48,000, or 6,000 more than the number farrowed last fall.

STUDENTS SEEK DATA ABOUT CRIME

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2. — Although the schools and colleges of the State are not in regular session at the present time, the division of research and statistics, Pennsylvania Department of Welfare, continues to receive requests for statistical information from summer school students.

The latest of these requests was from a State College student seeking information as to the number of cases of adult crime in Westmoreland county in 1934, classified as to type.

This information was available. However, an additional request for the number of cases of juvenile crime and their type, could not be answered. The machinery for making these statistics available has been started and indicates the direction the next major project of the Division will take.

Fix Regulations Under Drug Law

HARRISBURG—Regulations are being prepared by the narcotic division based on the recent hypnotic drug law, according to a report submitted today to the secretary of health, Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, by M. V. McFadden, chief of the division. These regulations, when approved by the secretary of health, will be submitted to the advisory board for action.

"The so-called hypnotic drug law requiring a physician's prescription before hypnotic drugs can be purchased became effective on July 18 when it was signed by Governor Earle," McFadden said.

"It should be made clear to all druggists, as well as prospective purchasers of hypnotic drugs, that the absolute pre-requisite to obtain this type of medication is a physician's prescription."

CANNED FRUIT GOOD AFTER 74 YEARS

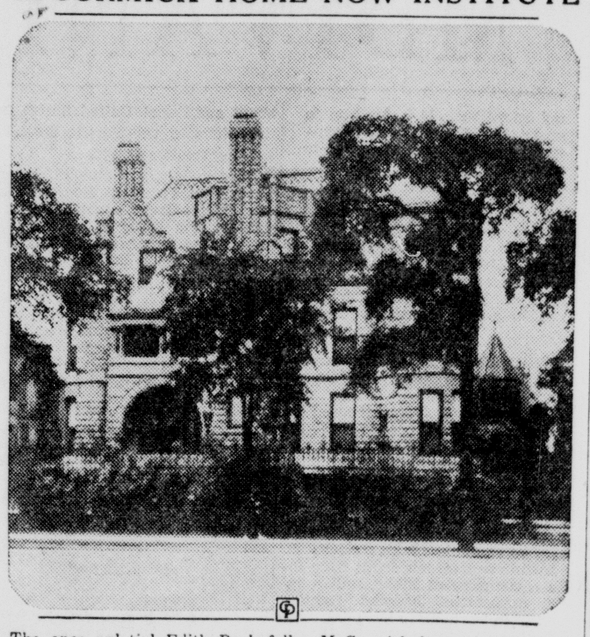
(International News Service)

SELLERSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 2.—Manassah S. Biehn, living on Bethlehem pike, near here, figures this ought to be some kind of a canned goods record.

He owns a half-gallon glass jar of Ox Heart cherries "put up" by his mother in 1861—just 74 years ago. Mrs. Anna Biehn, who died 30 years ago, canned the fruit just after she was married and then decided to save it.

They get a little darker each year, says Biehn, but they still look edible.

M'CORMICK HOME NOW INSTITUTE



The once palatial Edith Rockefeller McCormick home in Chicago, which has been unoccupied since the society leader's death in 1932, is to be opened as the Olivet Institute galleries, according to officials in charge of the charity project. Olivet Institute galleries will be a clearing house for superfluous belongings which persons would like to dispose of and which others would like to acquire at a bargain price. Proceeds from all sales will go to the institute. The institute leased the home from Edwin L. Brashears, receiver for the property.

Didn't Know He Had A Brother

(International News Service)

BARCELONA, Aug. 2. — Two brothers who did not know of each other's existence have been brought together for the first time—by a lawsuit.

Jose Brull, on claiming an inheritance, was surprised to find that another person named Brull had forestalled him.

He accused the first claimant of falisfication, but to everybody's surprise, when brought before the court, the man produced documents which proved his statement, identified him beyond a doubt and proved that he was the son of Jose Brull's parents.

Investigation by the police, and explanations offered by friends of both men, led to the discovery that, unknown to each other, they are brothers. Their parents were separated when Jose was a baby and he was brought up in ignorance of his brother.

Discovers Land Where War Really Has Been Outlawed

By HERBERT CARYL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—An example to the world of a land where war can never have a place is Arapesh, in the mountains of the Wewak district in New Guinea.

Through a system of education integrating the whole nation, each individual there is taught that aggression is wrong, it was learned by Dr. Margaret Mead, assistant curator of ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History

Telling of the Arapesh people, Dr. Mead said they were agriculturists, have very poor land, game is scarce and rare, and the climate is damp and inclement. She explained:

"All the conditions are present which should make them aggressive. Instead, by a system of education, in which the whole aim of women and men is to cherish children, a type of character is developed which is peaceful and co-operative.

"People plant their seeds in other people's gardens, plant their trees in other people's yards, feed their neighbor's pigs and give their own pigs to someone else to feed.

"Every individual is bound to his neighbors by ties of helpfulness and there is no single group of people who are associated together competently against any other group long enough for permanent disturbances to develop.

"The Arapesh preserve a peaceful society by tying individuals together into complete patterns and so maintain peace between individuals.

If each nation in the world was bound to every other nation by as many rules as occur among the Arapesh, permanent defense and offensive alliances would be equally impossible, Dr. Mead believes.

Warns Of Danger Of Ivy Poisoning

Unusual Number Of Victims Reported In State This Year

MANY CAMPERS FOUND SUFFERING

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Reports from various sections of the state indicate an unusual number of campers are ivy poison victims this summer. As a result state department of health today issued advice to campers and hikers urging susceptibles to be particularly careful not to come into direct contact with the vine, nor to pet dogs brushed by it.

"Reports from many sections of the state show that poison icy is again getting in its uncomfortable work with an unusual quota of victims this summer," said Dr. Paul A. Rothfuss, deputy secretary of health.

"Everyone who intends to camp off the beaten track, or blaze trails through the mountains or woods should be thoroughly acquainted with poison ivy and give it wide birth Several recent instances brought to the department's attention show that the petting of dogs accompanying campers has directly resulted in developing poison ivy in spite of other efforts by susceptibles to avoid contact..

"The best prophylactic against ivy poisoning is thoroughly to wash any suspected exposed portions of the body with warm water and soap immediately upon returning to one's camping base or home. Very frequently this measure will prevent the suffering and sometimes serious illness directly resulting from contact with the vine. Those who, in spite of all reasonable efforts, contract this poison should place themselves immediately under medical care."

Fierce Electrical Storm In County

Campers Along Slippery Rock Have Unusual Experience Last Night

Campers along the Slippery Rock were treated to an electrical display Thursday night that will not be surpassed in some time. For about four hours great sheets of lightning lit up the sky and with the lightning was an accompaniment of heavy drum fire thunder that at times seemed to threaten to take out the trees along the creek.

The rain was terrific. With the rain for a time was a sharp downpour of hail and corn fields this morning show the result of the beating.

It was one of the worst rains of the season in the Slippery Rock Valley and the electrical display was one seldom witnessed.

GET READY FOR NEW ROAD PROGRAM

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Flying fingers in the stenographic unit of the state highway department are giving first empetus to the giant federal Works Progress Administration program which will bring nearly $21,000,000 to Pennsylvania, according to Warren VanDyke, secretary of the department.

Requirements of the federal government in the matter of road construction forced immediate revision of highway department specifications, the first since 1930. Because of the desire to begin work at the earliest possible date it was determined to mimeograph the book in the department instead of waiting for a regular printing.

Two Warren, Pa., Boys Are Killed

Gasoline Powered Coach Crashes Into Auto Near Warren, Pa.

WARREN, Pa., Aug. 2.—A gasoline-powered passenger coach crashed into a hay truck late Thursday afternoon, killing two boys and seriously injuring two other persons.

The dead are Robert Mackay, Jr., 13, of Warren, and Bertram Teeple, 16, of Althom, this county.

The accident occurred at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing in Althom, 15 miles south of Warren.

Bertram Teeple, 63, father of one of the victims, and Jack Kirsch, 16, of 307 Linview avenue, Carrick, were riding on the truck which young Teeple was driving.

They were moved to a Warren hospital where their condition was termed "serious."

Kenneth Teeple, brother of the dead youth, alighted from the truck just before it reached the crossing. He said none of them heard the approaching train.

Coroner Edward Lowrey and Corporal L. E. Linder of the state highway patrol are investigating.

See the 18 new models—and get your Kelvinator now. You are more than paying for it in other ways so you might as well have it and enjoy it.

HERE'S THE PLAN

No down payment—select model you want—we install it—you deposit as low as 15 cents a day in the METER-ATOR, depending on model you select. Money is collected once a month—and after the Kelvinator is paid for, the METER-ATOR is removed.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

ANNUAL FARM TOUR

The Annual Lawrence - Beaver County Farm Tour will be held Thursday, August 8.

The Tour this year will be into Clarion County, Pennsylvania, where some outstanding dairy cattle, pasture improvement demonstration work, horses, they Hy-dro Electric Dam on the Clarion River and other items of interest will be seen.

Lawrence County folks who plan to make the trip may gather at Dixie Inn, located at the junction of Routes No. 19 and 422 at 8:00 a. m., or at a point known as "The Narrows," located along the Allegheny River on Route No. 68, just north of Brady's Bend at 9:30 a. m.

Provisions will be made for a place to eat the usual picnic lunch.

LATE BLIGHT THREATENS POTATO CROP OF STATE

Late blight of potatoes appeared in Pennsylvania during the past week which is one of the earliest dates on record.

The disease is now present in a number of counties and the infection is extremely severe in some areas. It is feared that continued wet weather will result in a statewide epidemic of the disease In its most severe stage blight completely kills the foliage and rots the tubers.

Control is obtained by timely spraying with bordeaux mixture, made with 8 pounds of slaked lime and 8 pounds of bluestone in 100 gallons of water. In fields where the infection is found two applications should be made immediately at 300 or more pounds pressure. Thereafter, sprays should be applied weekly or oftener if the disease is not checked.

RASPBERRY PLANTS NEED POST HARVEST TREATMENT

Benefits to be derived from organic matter in the soil of small fruit plantings cannot be overemphasized.

All the small fruits contain a higher percentage of moisture and make their greatest can growth just prior to and during the harvesting season. In order to meet this excessive demand for moisture, cultural practices favoring the retention of moisture and the increase of water-holding powers should be given attention. In this year of plentiful moisture it will be wise to make this provision for a possible drier season next year.

Sowing of a cover crop is recommended as soon as the ground can be prepared. Any of the crops, such as buckwheat, millet, oates, or sudan grass, can be used in amounts to insure a heavy growth. The feeding of the cover crop should not be neglected. While a nitrate carrier probably was used in the spring, application now of a complete fertilizer containing 150 to 200 pounds of superphosphate will prove beneficial. Heavy application of stable manure also will give good results.

The fruiting canes should be removed as soon as possible after harvest. Where anthracnose is prevalent on new canes, a summer strength lime sulphur spray should be applied.

PENN STATE ANNOUNCES VEGETABLE FIELD DAY

A vegetable field day is announced by the Pennsylvania State College, for Thursday, September 5, when the gardens and experimental work of the divisions of vegetable gardening and plant breeding of the Department of Horticulture will be open for inspection by gardeners, seedsmen, and other interested persons. Tours from the counties can be accommodated.

More than 20 acres of the College farms are occupied by experiments on vegetables including the following studies:

1. Fertilization of Truck Crops. There are 512 plots devoted to studies of the fertilizer needs of cabbage, potatoes, sweet corn, tomatoes, and asparagus. Method of application, analysis, formula, and quantity of fertilizer, manure, cover crop, and combinations of these are included.

2 New Varieties and Strains of Vegetables. About 700 lots of vegetables are being grown, including 77 varieties and strains of beans, 124 of sweet corn, 35 of squashes and pumpkins, 73 of tomatoes, 77 of celery, 32 of onions, 30 of peppers, 20 of carrots, 21 of beets, 60 of cabbage, and smaller numbers of other kinds of vegetables.

3. Breeding of Late Cabbage, Sweet Corn, Tomatoes, and Peppers. One hundred and fifty lots of sweet corn, including inbreds, hybrids, of inbreds, top-crosses, and commercial strains are being compared; progeny of 275 head selections of Penn State Ballhead cabbage are under observation; progeny of 53 plant selections of tomatoes, representing different crosses, and 53 different commercial strains of tomatoes are being grown; pepper breeding studies, including progeny of 150 plant selections of different crosses are being carried on; and six plant selections of rhubarb are being observed.

CONTROL BUCKHORN BY FEEDING LAWN SOILS

At this time of the year in parks and lawns the ugly seed stalks of buckhorn (lance-leaf plantain, narrow-leaf plantain, ripple) rattle on one's shoes and about one's ankles in walking over the grass. Naturally, the question arises as to why it is there and how it can be eradicated.

The presence of any weeds in a turf usually suggests that some feature or features of management have been neglected so that the weeds have been able to encroach upon the grass. Where buckhorn is present in large numbers, we invariably find a thin, poor turf is in a half-starved condition. Buckhorn seems to thrive on a thin, improverished soil where grass grows with difficulty.

The best panacea for grass and, at the same time, the best weed eradicator is plant food. By feeding the grass properly and encouraging a thick, healthy turf it usually is possible to eliminate most common lawn weeds, particularly buckhorn. Where the mower is set at 1½ inches or higher and where the fertilizing program has been adequate, it seems that the crown of buckhorn rises out of the ground and lies on the surface. In this position it is more susceptible to winter-killing and to competition from the grass.

Fertilizing during the hot summer months is not advisable because of the inconsistency of the rainfall. If grass is stimulated during the summer and the weather then becomes hot and dry, the grass will be much worse. It will soon be time to do the fall seeding and fertilizing. Watch these columns for particulars.

MAPLE WILT DISEASE ATTACKS SHADE TREES

Maple wilt, which has appeared in many sections of Pennsylvania this year, is causing concern among tree owners.

This disease is caused by a fungus technically known as verticillium. It may be distinguished from other causes of wilting, such as dry, hot weather and shading, by the grass-green streaks which appear in the wood beneath the bark of the affected limbs.

Unfortunately, maple wilt is a very difficult disease to control. Sanitation measures will decrease the spores formed by the fungus and lessen the opportunities for infection of healthy trees. By the time a limb dies the infection has spread into the trunk and usually it is impossible to eliminate it completely.

The best control measure is to remove immediately and burn the infected trees. Since it is not certain that infected trees will die and many do not die for several years, it will help in checking the disease if growers will cut out the infected limbs 2 or 3 feet below any sign of the disease as soon as they appear.

Since the disease gains entrance most easily through unprotected wounds, a disinfectant paint made of equal parts of creosote and coal-tar should be applied immediately over the wounds.

In pruning dead limbs the disease may be carried on tools unless they are disinfected. This can be done by wiping them with a cloth saturated with a 1-1000 solution of corrosive sublimate, after which they should be rinsed in clear water to prevent corrosion.

Where a maple has been removed it should not be replaced at once with another tree as the new tree may become infected with the maple wilt.

In this state the Norway maple is most commonly affected, but maple wilt also is found on the sugar and red maples.

World Production Of Autos Rising

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Aug. 2.—An increase of over 90 per cent in the production of motorcars and trucks in the last two years is reported by the League of Nations' economic intelligence service.

In 1932 the world output was 1,979,000; in 1934 this figure had risen to 3,745,000.

Nevertheless, the total output was still below the preslump totals, which for 1929 amounted to 6,315,000.

Motorcar production in the United States was responsible for most of the fluctuations in output. In 1929, the United States produced 5,358,000 cars and trucks; in 1932 the U. S. output was 1,471,000, while last year the output of American factories was 2,799,000.

DISCUSSES CONSTITUTION

Editor News,
New Castle, Pa.,
Dear sir:

The constitutional crisis: Some observations on the settings around which the historic document was framed.

Lest we should forget, the constitution of the United States was arrived at behind closed doors under a binding agreement that all discussions were to be held secret until all the delegates were dead, which was faithfully carried because the minutes of the convention were kept for 51 or 53 years from public knowledge until the delegates passed on. This was done, there is no doubt, to keep the delegates sheltered from the popular will of the people.

I believe these remarks are timely in view of the crisis we now find our country and should dissipate some of the temerity of the "holier than thou" folks who rejoice with glee behind the bulwarks of conservatism and privilege. Signed,

ALFRED H. WATTERS,
17 Kurtz St.
City.

CONDITIONS FAVOR SEED POTATO CROP

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Latest records show that Pennsylvania farmers have entered 657 acres of potatoes for seed certification this year, according to officials of the bureau of plant industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

This acreage represents entries by sixty-five growers in eighteen counties. There has been a considerable increase in acreage entered by Potter County growers, while in certain other counties the acreage has been reduced. The varieties grown include Russet Rural, White Rural, Irish Cobblers, Green Mountain, Katahdin and Blue Victor.

With favorable growing conditions during the remainder of the season, an excellent crop of seed potatoes is expected.

Drive For Tax Bill Is Delayed

Little Chance Of House Passing Bill By Saturday Night

TWIN THREATS ARE DELAYING ACTION

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—House leaders may abandon their program of driving the $270,000,000 wealth tax bill through to passage by Saturday night.

Although the House was called into session at an early hour today, many obstacles confronted leaders in their efforts to speed adjournment by quick passage of the bill.

Twin Threats

Republican opposition to the entire tax program and the campaign of "progressives" and "left wing" groups to boost taxes were twin threats to the success of the program.

Chairman Doughton (D) of North Carolina, of the ways and means committee, however, planned to summon all his resources to get the measure to the Senate.

First day's progress on the measure was slowed by a Republican filibuster which ended only when Democratic leaders agreed to avoid a threatened night session for debate on the measure.

Appeals were made by the Republican spokesmen for an agreement to permit a final vote on the bill next week. While no agreement was reached, this action appeared probable.

Would Rewrite Measure

Meantime, two groups of "progressives" in the House were framing programs to rewrite the measure.

Representative Marcantonio (R) of New York, representing the "left wing group" of the "progressive bloc", announced that he would offer a substitute program estimated to raise $2,300,000,000 taxes a year.

Despite the opposition, Democratic leaders were confident that the House will approve the bill about as written by the ways and means committee.

The Senate finance committee continued hearings on the House measure, with organized business throwing its full strength against the President's tax policy and the House bill.

The finance committee, it was indicated, was split over the President's proposal for a graduated corporation income tax, and a majority appeared to oppose the high inheritance tax rates imposed in the House bill.

TWO GET DIVORCES IN FIVE MINUTES

(International News Service)

MEDIA, Pa., Aug. 2— It took Judge Francis Macdade about five minutes each to decide these cases.

Mrs. Josephine C. Chairmont, 23, testified the ideas of her husband, Athony, 25, were too novel to suit her. He wanted to "swap" her with a friend of his in an exchange of wives, she said.

Mrs. Francis L. Strang, 43, declared her spouse, Henry, told her he was going to Canada and that she found him in Philadelphia in "a car load of girls".

Both women received divorces.

Surgery Project To Restore Men To Working Condition Likely

IS CONSIDERED AT PITTSBURGH

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2. — Men whose working days have been terminated were under consideration today as the basis of a new type of works progress administration project.

The program being discussed as a possible WPA project is one of surgery—to restore these men, labelled "unemployable," to perfect health so that they may return to jobs. It was estimated there are approximately 2,000 jobless men in this "unemployable" group in the Pittsburgh district.

Because of hard work and strain in the past, these men incurred a hernia, thus ending their usefulness as workers. On their relief cards they have been stamped as unable to work.

Physicians have now evolved an operation, simple and safe, to cure hernia. Because of the present difficulties under which hospitals are laboring due to the depression, those supporting the new project see, in operations for all 2,000 of the "unemployables," an opportunity to give the hospitals needed business and, at the same time, restore the men to health.

John F. Laboon, district works progress administrator, is drawing up plans for such a project. Under the plans, if they are approved by the county medical society and then by Harrisburg and Washington WPA officials, curative operations for the victims of hard labor may be effected, and the men restored to their former positions as wage earners.

VALLEY FORGE PARK MAY BE ENLARGED

(International News Service)

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., Aug. 2 — Double its present acreage will be added to Valley Forge Park under a bill signed recently by Governor George H. Earle.

Authority to acquire 3,500 more acres to add to the park's 1,500 is given in the measure. While years may elapse before all of the new holdings are acquired, park officials explained, the additions will give Montgomery and Chester counties one of the finest recreation grounds in the state.

Under the original act giving the commonwealth title to the famous Revolutionary War site, the area was limited to 250 acres. This subsequently was increased to 1,500 and will be increased to 5,000 acres, including land on both sides of the Schuylkill, a memorial bridge and a boulevard.

SALEM, Mass., July 16—Dr. Frank H. Coffin, Haverhill dentist, did his part to start things rolling anew. Dr. Coffin crossed off ninety-four of his patients' bills in his will filed for probate. He left an estate of $124,173.

Tragic Death Of Prince Alexis Mdivani Causes Grief To Barbara

AMERICAN HEIRESS IS ENROUTE TO DENMARK

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)

WARNEMUNDE, Germany, Aug. 2.—Grief-stricken over the tragic death of her former husband, Prince Alexis Mdivani, in an automobile accident in Spain, Countess Barbara von Haugwitz-Reventlow, American heiress, passed through Warnemunde today enroute to her new husband's estate in Denmark.

Count Curt von Haugwitz, who married the wealthy Hutton heiress following her divorce from Prince Mdivani, told briefly of her grief as they arrived here by train.

"She is completely grief-stricken," he said.

The countess did not make an appearance. She remained in the interior of the car behind curtained windows and no one was allowed to enter.

Haugwitz appeared for a few minutes at one of the windows and talked briefly to International News Service.

"The news of Prince Mdivani's death," he said, "was broken to Barbara just before she left Paris.

"American newspapermen sent us word of the tragedy.

"The countess was stricken with grief. She has not been able to discuss the tragedy at all except to express her profoundest sorrow. It has broken her up a very great deal."

State Commission Orders Rate Battle

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2—Abandoning informal conferences, the public service commission today hailed the Pennsylvania power and light company before it with an order to show cause by August 17 why the concern's domestic electric rates should not be drastically reduced.

Months of informal conferences, revealed exclusively two weeks ago by International News Service, with the utility, second, largest in the state, were brought sharply to a head with the commission was announcement it was abandoning persuasion for legal action to force compliance with its six per cent earning order of April, 1934.

Gov. George H. Earle was revealed as standing four square behind the commission in the impending rate battle, expected to be one of the biggest of its kind in the commission's history. The governor informed the commission on July 10, a statement from his office said that "action must be taken" to compel a reduction of electric rates in the 28 counties served by the utility.

"The rates as a whole paid by the customers of the Pennsylvania power and light company are higher than any other company of its kind in Pennsylvania," said Richard J. Beamish, counsel for the commission, in another statement released through the governor's office.

Repeated efforts to compel this utility to reduce its rates to a proper and reasonable level have failed."

Involved in company's alleged failure to comply with the commission's uniform accounts system is an item of approximately $97,000,000 now included in the rate baue which the commission believes should be deducted. A supplemental commission order instructed the company to justify its non-compliance with the uniform accounts system.

Tax Commission Holds Meeting

Committee Undecided Upon Further Action Against Schultz

(International News Service)

ALBANY, Aug. 2.—Members of the state tax commission went into conference today to decide whether New York state should try Dutch Schultz, twice acquitted for alleged evasion of federal income taxes, for non-payment of state income taxes.

It was reported that the commissioner might ask Thomas E. Dewey, special anti-vice racketeer prosecutor appointed by Governor Lehman, to make Schultz the No. 1 man in his drive on crime in New York City.

Dewey has stated that he will use the income tax laws for prosecution of racketeers if no other means are available of striking at the crime overlord. Schultz's name has been connected frequently with the huge policy racket in New York City.

Baldwin Denies Monetary Talk

Member Of British Parliament Questions Visit Of J. P. Morgan To Premier

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 2.—J. P. Morgan, the international banker, popped into the limelight today as parliament adjourned until late October.

John McGovern, Glasgow Laborite and fiery baiter of the rich and noble, wants to know why Morgan visited Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin.

The Scot put this question on the final day's order paper: "Will Mr. Baldwin state the object of the official visit of Mr. Morgan to No. 10 Downing street Tuesday?"

Social Visit.

Associates of Morgan insist that there was nothing official in the call, that his present visit to England is purely social and that his call on Baldwin was merely a gesture of friendship.

It was rumored in financial circles, however, that the question of world monetary stabilization may have been taken up.

Baldwin's written reply to McGovern denied Morgan's visit was official.

"Mr. Morgan," the premier said, "is an old personal friend of mine, with whom I have stayed in New York and who always comes to see me when he is in this country. I hope he'll continue to do so."

Croton Methodists Have Annual Picnic

Enjoyable Time Is Spent At Castle Beach, Thursday By Members Of Congregation

Members of the Sunday school and congregation of the Croton Avenue M. E. church had their annual picnic at Castle Beach Thursday and although the thunderstorm, which broke early in the evening, curtailed part of the program, an enjoyable time was held.

The single men finally succeeded in winning from the married brethren, coming from behind in the semi-darkness as the storm approached, to nose out the benedicts 12-11. The married men claim that had the weather been clear, it would have been the same old story.

Alexander hurled a masterful game, until the final inning, when the single men scored eight runs. Bales, on the mound for the single men was hit hard, but exceptional fielding saved him in several innings. Bishop did a splendid job of umpiring, at times.

During the afternoon, races and swimming were enjoyed with the events for the men in charge of Clarence Reiber, while Mrs. C. E. Allen had charge of the races for the ladies.

Dinner was served at the tables under the trees at 6:30, each family bringing a basket, which was distributed on the tables by the table committee.

CHANGE OUTING DATE

The Bible School and Church picnic for the Center Church congregation, has been postponed for one week. It will be held August 21 at the church.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Center Church, met on August 1, in their rooms at the church, with Mrs. J. M. Houk, leader. Mrs. C. G. Johnson and Mrs. J. M. Houk, gave an interesting report of the General Women's Missionary Society Convention which took place at Grove City recently.

Rev. and Mrs. Johnston served light refreshments at a suitable hour.

Mrs. E. F. Johnson was a special guest of the occasion.

ST. ANDREWS Vs. SHENANGOS

St. Andrews Crusaders will play the Shenangos tonight at the Gaston Park field at 6 o'clock, it was announced today. The Crusaders are in the National league. The Shenangos are champions of the American Junior league. Lane will probably pitch for the Saints, with Capp ready to hurl for the American league champs.

Sherman's Pastor

Rev. W. Reed Usher, pastor of Congregational Church, Douglas, Mass., where Newell Sherman sang and from which the murdered Mrs. Sherman was buried, doesn't believe capital punishment should be meted out to Sherman. "Is there no Christian ending to 'An American Tragedy'?" he asks.

Monte Carlo Loan Fails To Remove Bankruptcy Peril

With Casino Losing Money Monaco Faces Serious Trouble

(International News Service)

MONTE CARLO, Aug. 2 —Revolutionary mutterings in the opera-bouffe gambling principality of Monaco were hushed today for citizens had learned that British and Dutch interests had stepped in and taken up the entire $4,000,000 loan just authorized to tide over the financial crisis.

However, it is feared that the $4,000,000 is just a drop in the bucket and that the make-believe independent country of Monaco is faced with a serious upset.

Prince Louis II of Monaco, last heir of the Grimaldis, who besides being a general in the French army presides over the destinies of his little country, recently called on President Lebrun and Foreign minister Laval of France. Rumors are heard that the French republic is beginning to consider the prospect of being forced to step in and frankly take over Monaco.

The crisis became known to the public when Rene Leon, financial dictator of Monaco for 12 years, resigned. Leon, a former valet named Van Den Puth, is said to have dissipated or tucked away $17,000,000 including $1,500,000 of Prince Louis's pocket money. Louis and his daughter Charlotte, former wife of Prince Pierre de Polignac who got the pate President Raymond Poincare to arrange her divorce in 1928 following her elopement with her doctor, are now thinking it over at the Chateau de Marchais.

The $4,000,000 bond issue was a last desperate attempt to refloat the notoriously famous Monte Carlo casino without which the principality cannot live. France's persistence in remaining on the gold standard and the authorization of roulette and trente-etquarante (which used to be Monaco's monopoly in French casinos, dealt Monaco a stunning blow.

Sir Basil Zaharoff is said to have suspected that all was not well at Monaco when he withdrew his funds.

It is feared that Leon, who is now in England, is preparing a merciless gambling war against Monaco by taking over various casinos on the Riviera, in addition to the Palais de la Mediterranee, which Frank J. Gould built and cannot make pay.

A consequence of the scandal is that Monaco's fire-eating politicians are displaying much activity. One political party has just been formed under the name of the Monegasque Democratic Union. Maybe one day the Monegasque people will have a July 4 of their own and proclaim a republic.

Home Owner Loans Are Being Repaid

Lawrence County Record Of Payments Better Than In Adjoining Counties

Collections on home owners loans in New Castle and Lawrence county are being maintained at a level higher than in adjoining counties, according to C. P. Cloak, manager of the HOLC here. The mortgagors realize their obligation to the government and are discharging that obligation as the payments come due, with a few exceptions.

Work on the 300 applications made during the thirty day extension period which ended late in June is going forward, Mr. Cloak said. Many of them have gone through the channels until they are now almost ready for closing. Appraisals on the balance are being made as rapidly as possible.

CLEANER ROADSIDE STANDS DEMANDED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2—Cleaner roadside stands along Pennsylvania's highways are asked by the Keystone Automobile club for the protection of state and out-of-state motorists.

"Motorists have a right to cleanliness in lunch stands and wash rooms and many have told us they now walk out without making purchases when they find the places do not conform to ordinary standards of sanitation," Edward P. Curran, safety director of the club, declared.

Damage Is Done By Storm Here

Mud And Gravel Washed Onto Streets; Crops, Trees Suffer Damage

Roof Of School House And Electric Wires Blown Down; Church Feels Havoc

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 2.—Much damage was done in this section by the severe electrical, hail, wind and rain storm last night.

Despite the two storm sewers in the city, the downtown streets were flooded to the curb. The street department was up bright and early this morning cleaning up the mud, gravel and silt. Also the electric department was repairing electric wires and replacing bulbs. Employees of the Pennsylvania Power Company were kept busy during the greater part of the night repairing the damage caused by high tension wires and transformers being struck. A number of sections were without lights for several hours.

The cross on top of the roof of the St. Agatha Catholic church was blown down and the roof somewhat damaged. The roof of number 4 schoolhouse at Pleasant Hill in Perry township was blown onto the highway, obstructing all traffic. The rain did much damage to the interior of the building.

Damage to the corn crops in this section was great, the stalks being blown down and the leaves shredded by hail. Many gardens were washed out or otherwise destroyed by the storm. Trees were blown over or had limbs broken off.

The storm struck this section three different times. There was about a half hour of terrific rain at 7:30, again around nine p. m. and then the real thing came about 11:15.

"Mystery Ray" Shows Worth

Tests Conducted Early Today Prove Ray Is Valuable

SECRECY SHROUDS DAY'S DEMONSTRATION

(International News Service)

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Aug. 2.—The United States army's new "mystery ray" completely proved its worth here early today.

While numerous high ranking officers were supposedly looking on, the ray was employed in a theoretical defense of the Jersey coast and in 51 "shots" scored a total of 48 direct hits, one partial hit and two complete misses. Theoretically at least two score "enemy" vessels were incapacitated.

The tests, last of a series the signal corps laboratory at Fort Monmouth has been conducting, were designed to prove the efficacy in coastal defense of the "ray", a radio electric device devised to locate ships and aircraft up to 50 miles away.

The entire procedure early today was shrouded in military secrecy and civilians were barred from the vicintiy of the Navesink lighthouse from where the tests were conducted.

As the coast guard cutter Pontchartrain, every light muffled and her engines cut to a hush, cruised back and forth in a ten-mile area, five miles off shore, the "ray" darted forth in search of her. Fifty-one times the device sought the location of the cutter and 48 times in response to the ray machine operator's "in action!" the 800,000 candlepower searchlight of the signal corps shot a finger of glaring light to sea and hit the Pontchartrain amidships.

Once the light found only the stern of the cutter and the other two times complete misses were recorded. It was pointed out, however, that in both these instances the PontChartrain only had its bow or stern exposed and thus offered the smallest possible target.

This morning's test was the final one for this area, it was announced. Plans for the future development of the ray were not disclosed, but it was believed the signal corps command expects to experiment with it against aircraft next.

German building societies acquired 400,000 new members in seven years.

Potatoes 'Bathed' By Radio Increase

MOSCOW, Aug. 2.—Wireless as a valuable aid in farming is foreshadowed by experiments claimed to have been successfully carried out at Sverdlovsk.

By exposing potatoes to ultra-short waves, M. Savin who is conducting the experiments, has increased the yield by as much as 17-fold, says a report made to Moscow. The same method applied to tomato seeds almost doubled the yield.

FORETELLS DEATH TO HIS TORMENTERS

(International News Service)

PRAGUE—A 13 year old boy accurately foretold his own death. Taroslav Taril, whose father died last March, frightened some boys who were bullying him by saying, "In two days' time I shall see my father again. If you don't stop bullying me I will tell him about you" Two days later he was drowned—on the very day he prophesied. He was playing with some other boys in a boat when he slipped and fell into a river.

STAMP NEWS FROM EVERYWHERE

BY JOHNRAE EARL, SEC. NEW CASTLE STAMP CLUB.

The next new stamp to be issued by the postoffice department is going to be one honoring the 100th anniversary of the entrance of Michigan into the Union. This stamp will undoubtedly be of the large size and will probably make its appearance on November 1. The city of Lansing has been chosen by the department as the first-day city for this new stamp. No design has yet been chosen but due to the fact that it is a commemorative stamp we may look forward to a stamp similar in size with the Wisconsin three-cent stamp.

1. BRITISH GUIANA

This stamp which I have chosen to illustrate this week is a British Guiana 1-cent printed on magenta paper and issued in 1856. This is the most valuable bit of postal paper in existence. Like many another rarity, its worth was not recognized by its original owner. A lad living in British Guiana who found it among some old family papers in the year 1872, sold it to a local collector for $1.50. The stamp thereafter changed hands several times, at rising prices, until in 1880 it was purchased for $600 by that greatest stamp collector of all time, the Austrian Count Phillip la Renotiere von Ferrary.

When Count Ferrary died in 1917 his huge and wonderful collection was sold, in a series of 14 historic auction sales, at a price which totaled $2,275,975. It was at one of these auction sales that the agent of an American millionaire ,the late Arthur Hind of Utica, N. Y., outbid the agent of King George V for the possession of the British Guiana rarity. The price, including the French government tax, was $30,025 which is a colossal sum for one postage stamp. Yet stamp prices, like all prices, are based on laws of supply and demand. There are millions of stamp collectors, but only one copy of the 1c 1856 stamp of British Guiana. It is estimated that the rarity today would sell at a price in the neighborhood of $50,000.

This information is interesting and it is well worth while for those who are making scrap books of stamp materials to add this illustration along with the story which accompanies it to your book. Although I don't believe that you had better ever count on owning this bit of paper, but to be satisfied with just a picture of it. This is No. 1 of a series of the ten most valuable stamps in existence, all of which will be illustrated in this column in due time. These are actual size reproductions of the stamps. Cut them out inside the dotted lines and you will have an interesting set of illustrations to mount in your stamp album or scrap book.

New Phase To Hobby.

It seems to me that a new phase to the widespread hobby of philately is being introduced into this country at the present time. What I have reference to is the issuance of souvenir sheets of stamps (not postal) for the observance of historical or national events. I believe that the first of these is a Boy Scout souvenir sheet of six stamps which was issued by Glenn Higgins in Indianapolis, Ind., in honor of the silver Boy Scout national jamboree in Washington, D. C. This sheet resembles the souvenir sheets of six stamps of the 1-cent National Parks stamps. The new design shows a scout signaling, and is in two-tone purple. Full information regarding this sheet may be secured by dropping me a postcard and requesting it. Mr. Higgins is an assistant scoutmaster and a stamp collector. He also resides in the old home of James Whitcomb Riley in Lockerbie street in Indianapolis.

The American Philatelic society is issuing a poster stamp for their convention which will be held in the near future in Washington. These stamps will be issued in horizontal strips of three. I do not have full information regarding this issue yet but will tell you more about it when they are ready to be sold. Hereafter those persons who wish to have stamps issued for this and that and find that the government will not comply with their desires can issue their own stamps and make the design on them to suit their own desires. Just how far this undertaking will go is of course unknown at the start, but from all indications it appears to be another branch of our hobby.

A Historic Cachet.

On September 3, a cachet commemorating the greatest disaster in the history of the U. S. navy. On September 3, 1933, at Hondo Point off Santa Barbara, Calif., seven U. S. destroyers lost 22 men when they went on the rocks. Send covers to Jack Conway, 3713 Bandera street, Pittsburgh, Pa., with one cent forwarding postage per cover. No covers accepted after August 15. Commemorative stamps will be appreciated on outside wrappers.

U. S. A. Convention.

In preparation for the convention of the Universal Stamp association to be held in Champaign, Ill., during the Labor Day week-end a joint meeting of four U. S. A. chapters will be held in New Castle on August 12 at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. library. This meeting has been called by the president of the organization, Wellington J. Ramsey of Ellwood City, Pa. Invitations to attend have been sent to chapters 2 and 11 in Warren, O., chapter 8 in Ellwood City and to chapter 9 which is the New Castle Stamp club.

The reason for this meeting is to get together a group of the persons from this district who are planning to go to the convention and thus reduce transportation costs to a minimum. New Castle has been chosen as the meeting place for two reasons, because it is half way between both Ellwood and Warren and also because there is a possibility of the Universal Stamp association convention being staged in New Castle in 1936.

Ruffles In Dress Are Rejuvenated

(International News Service)

VICHY, Aug. 2. — Ruffles for morning and evening wear are the rage now in Vichy. The fashion originated with the beautiful young wife of the aged Viennese rejuvenation expert, Mme. Serge Voronoff.

Mme. Voronoff surprised walkers in the Parc Des Sources by wearing a clinging ankle-length frock of blue and white polka dot crepe-de-chine, with a continuous ruffle running around the neck, down the front and around the hem. Paris stylists copied the idea quickly.

BEAVER SHERIFF FIRES "DISLOYAL' REPUBLICAN

BEAVER, Pa., Aug. 2—Sheriff C. J. O'Loughlin today discharged Fred Kirkpatrick of New Brighton as deputy sheriff. The dismissal was charged by O'Loughlin to "your ingratitude and disloyalty to the Republican party, which has given you your bread and butter for the past three and one-half years."

Frank Dindinger, former postmaster of Monaca, was named to the vacancy.

Sportsmen Assist In War On Water Snakes

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2. — The Fish Commission's drive against water-snakes throughout the state has assumed intensive proportions this year, reports available indicate. In a number of instances, sportmen's organizations have sponsored individual campaigns of their own against these destructive reptiles, and results are gratifying.

As an example of the watersnake killing campaign sponsored by organized sportsmen, the work of the Huntingdon County Game, Fish and Forestry Association serves as an example.

These active sportsmen informed the Fish Commission recently that the snake-killing drive in that section of the state which they sponsored has already accounted for 573 watersnakes killed by boys.

In addition to paying a bounty of 5 cents for each snake killed, the Huntingdon group offered a prize of $2 for the largest individual kill. This prize was taken by Charles E. Wilson, of Three Springs, R. D. Wilson killed sixty-five of the reptiles during the contest.

The interest taken by boys in aiding the better fishing cause through killing of these destructive reptiles is regarded as significant in the Pennsylvania conservation movement.

Boy Scouts and others under 19 years of age who killed more water-snakes this summer will be given a conservation medal by the Fish Commission. In order to win one of these medals, a boy must report his kill to the leader of his Boy Scout troop, a fish warden or game warden or officer of a sportsmen's organization, who will in turn will verify the report and turn it into the Fish Commission.

WITH BELL COMPANY QUARTER OF CENTURY

Frank E Stitchberry, of Walmo, is rounding out a quarter if a century of service with the Bell Telephone Company, the 25th anniversary of his service occurring on August 19. He is an employe of the plant department.

Samuel H. Lyon, who is also connected with the New Castle plant department in the Beaver Valley, rounded out 30 years of service with the company on July 26.

AS A CEREAL

OR IN COOKING

it's FINE either way!

It's so handy to have a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the kitchen. Serve it as a cereal. Use it also as a wholesome ingredient in your muffins, breads, omelets, waffles, etc.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B, as well as iron, an element of the blood.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct common constipation, due to insufficient bulk in the diet. In severe cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

The "bulk" of ALL-BRAN does not break down during digestion as does that of leafy vegetables, and is therefore more effective for furnishing the needed "bulk." It is a delicious laxative food . . . far better than patent medicines.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Woman Who Knows Most About Snakes

Hates Them But They Never Scare Her

(International News Service)

LONDON—Small, dark, shy and Irish, Mrs. F. W. FitzSimmons is credited with knowing more about snakes than any other living woman and although she hates them, they fail to irighten her at all.

Her husband is director of the South African Government snake park, the largest of its kind in the world, and Mrs. FitzSimmons has helped him greatly as curator of the snake park. She is now in London.

She settled in a snake-infested part of Natal with her husband 18 years ago.

"The terrible fear that my children would be bitten made me urge by husband to study snake poison serums," she said.

They started their collection with a few small snakes in boxes. Today they have 500, including 30 foot pythons. Snakes arrive nearly every day at the park in Port Elizabeth to be added to the collection.

Mrs. FitzSimmons has just visited Ceylon. A snake charmer tried to impress her with his "deadly" specimens.

She calmly caught one below the head—forced open its mouth and threw it from her. Its fangs had been extracted.

The greatest danger at the snake park is rats.

They are fed alive to the snakes—but the rats often eat the snakes!

Standards Rule Air In Ice Cream

Net Weight Of Gallen Must Be Four And Three- Quarter Pounds

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—A special investigation by the state pure food officials is under way to check the amount of air or "overrun" in ice cream being sold within the commonwealth.

This survey already has resulted in ordering several prosecutions where ice cream containing an excessive amount of air has been manufactured and sold, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture reports.

Standards which govern the amount of "overrun" in ice cream were adopted in Pennsylvania over a year ago, state officials explained.

These standards require 1.8 pounds of total food solids in a gallon of ice cream and the net weight of the gallon must be 4.75 pounds. A quart of ice cream must, therefore, weigh one (1) pound and three (3) ounces, and a pint, nine and a half (9½) ounces. The state has ruled that these standards must be strictly observed no matter whether the ice cream is sold in a small amount as with a cone, or by the package.

Dog Attends Phone For Deaf Master

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—"Dixi the watchman," an Alsatian wolfhound aged six, has been trained as the perfect companion for the deaf and dumb. His owner, Johannes Hull, has taught him to:—

Obey signs made with the fingers; wake his master when the alarm clock rings; fetch him to the front door to answer the bell, answer the telephone.

When the telephone rings, Dixi takes the receiver off and runs barking furiously to attract the attention of his master. Sound vibrations of the telephone are sufficiently amplified for a deaf man to comprehend them.

Dixi is occasionally nonplussed when a bicycle bell rings in the street. He does not know whether to run to the telephone or to the front door.

EX-SLAVE STILL ACTIVE WORKER

(International News Service)

RED BLUFF, Calif., Aug. 2—When General W. T. Sherman marched across Georgia to the Sea in the closing days of the War between the States, Benjamin Franklin Mitchell, pickaninny, son of a slave watched from behind his mammy's apron on the plantation home of their master.

Today, Mitchell, now in what he believes to be about his 87th year, works here from sun-up to sundown on property to which he and his wife and five children hold a clear title.

Mitchell believes that he is the only ex-slave in California, the survivor of the party of 135 ex-slaves with whom he came to California in 1884.

The party had been recruited in the south by J. B. Haggin and Geo. Tevis to work on a gigantic agricultural project near Bakersfield where experiments were to be made in production of southern crops.

These lectures are promptly followed by a fifteen-hour course of instructions on first-aid; every operator, caretaker, and foreman being required to take the course and become a certified first-aid operative.

LARGER SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2—The number of two-year high schools in Pennsylvania continues to make a steady drop as such schools step up their classification or are closed because of transfer of pupils to larger schools. The Department of Public Instruction reports that during the one school year, 1934-35, the number of these small secondary schools decreased from 62 to 55. All other classes of high schools showed an increase except the four-year high schools which dropped from 530 to 519, due almost entirely to reorganization and reclassifications.

Ban Children From Trial Of Schweitzer

WILLIAM SCHWEITZER

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 2.—All spectators under 16 years old today were barred from the courtroom at the trial of William Schweitzer, a young hoodlum and his three party girl lures for the murder of Howard Carter Dickinson, prominent New York attorney-nephew of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes.

Judge John A. Boyne banned children as the testimony verged to the wild drinking party that was said to have preceded the killing. An account of the party was given in the confession of Jean Miller, which was read to the jury.

Miss Miller, Florence and Loretta Jackson, sisters, and Schweitzer are accused of luring Dickinson on an automobile ride and killing him for the $134 he carried after the party. All face life terms in prison.

Miss Miller's confession said she met Dickinson at Schweitzer's hotel room on the night of the murder. The Jackson sisters also were there.

Between highballs, she said, they played "strip poker," with Dickinson losing heavily. Dickinson also recited poetry.

"I love poetry," Miss Miller said in the confession as it was read to the jury. "He recited beautifully."

Government Did Not Prove Case, Jurors Contend

Jurors Answer Judge For Scathing Denouncement In Freeing Of "Dutch" Schultz

(International News Service)

MALONE, N. Y., Aug. 2.—The government failed to prove an income tax evasion case against Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Flegenheimer, former big-time Bronx beer boss, a cross section poll of the backwoods jury which acquitted him revealed today.

The tense drama behind the jury's verdict was also disclosed when it was learned that at the very moment that Judge Frederick H. Bryant was about to discharge the jury for failing to agree, the 12 villagers and farmers reached the decision to free the racketeer.

Leon Chapin, foreman in the jury, indirectly lashed back at the scathing condemnation of the verdict delivered by Judge Bryant. He said:

"We took the judge's instructions and followed them. We were told to follow the evidence and we did."

Chapin charged that the government did not show enough proof to merit a conviction. He added:

"We felt that the government did not prove its case."

OUR YESTERDAYS

When Oklahoma Became Known as Sooner State After Sooners Figured in Land Rush of 1889

Top, the lineup ready for the start of the Oklahoma land rush; left, typical oil well in the state; right, a view of Oklahoma City.

A WORD ONCE used in a reproachful manner now is the nickname of the state of Oklahoma. It is known as the Sooner State. The word, which is a slang expression for a person who acts prematurely, originally signified a homesteader who occupied public land before the time appointed by the government for the settlement of the territory in question. The expression came into general use back in 1889 in connection with the famous Oklahoma land rush. On March 23 of that year, President Benjamin Harrison issued a proclamation opening a large tract of land in Oklahoma for settlement. He set the following April 22 as the date for the opening of the settlement. While persons respecting the law waited at the edge of the territory for the signal opening the territory, some enterprising people, eager to obtain choice sections of the land, slipped in ahead of time and hid themselves near the tracts they desired so that they would be sure to be the first ones to stake out a claim. These settlers were dubbed sooners because they had arrived sooner than the others. Hence, the nickname of Sooner State. Although many of these sooners were convicted and sent to the penitentiary for their action, there is no antagonism now toward the nickname in Oklahoma, and people are proud of their sooner ancestors.

British Strikes At Record Low; Don't Pay Now

By HOWARD BERRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—Strikes do not pay any more in Britain, and in 1934 industry in this country experienced the most peaceful year in memory.

In fact, there are no records to show when there was a year so little dislocated by strikes and lock-outs.

This was revealed by the figures just compiled and published by the Ministry of Labor.

Last year 960,000 working days were lost by trade disputes. This comprises with 162,230,000 lost days in 1926, 85,000,000 in 1921, 40,890,000 in 1912, and 30,440,000 in 1893.

This was the only year in the last 50 in which fewer than 1,000,000 working days were lost through trade disputes.

Strikes do not pay now. There were 471 disputes last year. Only 136, or 28.9 percent in favor of the workers.

The strike total is running at a higher rate this year.

No Protest May Be Sent Soviets

Diplomatic Caution May Save Soviet Russia From Being Called To Task

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Diplomatic caution may save Soviet Russia from being called to task by this government for failure to live up to its non-propaganda pledge to the United States.

The State Department, it was learned today, is wavering in its consideration of whether a formal protest should be made.

This indecision was due to a difference of opinion within the department as to whether the activities of American Communists attending the Congress of the Communist Third Internationale at Moscow constituted a violation of the Soviet pledges to this country.

Clear Violation

Previously the view prevailed in authoritative quarters that the actions of American Communists at the congress, in which they urged Communists in this country to stir up labor trouble, constituted a clear violation of the pledges of the Soviet government to prevent American-directed propaganda on its soil.

Some officials even voiced the belief that no other course was open to this government but to protest.

However, following a conference of high ranking officials, a sudden cautiousness was apparent. Doubt was expressed as to whether the State Department had sufficient grounds on which to protest.

Acting Secretary of State William Phillips was understood to be among those who favored a cautious policy. He wanted to be absolutely sure that the department had unquestionable grounds for lodging a protest.

Foreclosures By Loan Corporation Are Inevitable

Fahey Asserts That Great Number Of Holdings Must Result In Some Sales

"As a result of several hundred foreclosures on the part of the Home Owners Loan Corporation, the question has been raised as to the number of properties the Corporation will have to take over in the next year or two," asserts John H. Fahey, Chairman of the HOLC.

"It is impossible to make any intelligent estimate as to the number of homes we will have to sell or rent but it is inevitable that some thousands of homes must be acquired by the Corporation in the normal course of its business," he states.

"Borrowers will not be harassed, nor asked to do the impossible, but, under the law the Corporation must collect the money due from borrowers who are able to pay.

"Leniency is possible only where the borrower can prove his present inability to meet his payments, and that he is acting in good faith. Investigation of more than 5000 requests by HOLC borrowers for postponement of their instalments revealed that less than 1100 of them were actually in difficulties. The other 3900 were merely seeking to evade their obligations. Their demands were not granted, and most of them have paid up, rather than lose their homes. To imply that the HOLC is a "Shylock" in foreclosing against persons who refuse to pay when they can pay is to argue that dishonest people should be given free ownership of their homes on the Federal credit, at heavy cost to everyone else."

Deportation Urged By Junior Order

Believe American Citizen Is Entitled To More Privilege Than Alien

James L. Wilmeth, national secretary of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, yesterday launched a sweeping attack on the Kerr bill now pending in Congress.

This measure, introduced by Representative John H. Kerr (D. N. C.) would give discretionary power over immigration and deportation to a commission composed of representatives of Department of Labor, State and Justice.

It is the contention of the Junior Order, Wilmeth said, that close restriction on immigration is primarily for protection of the American working man.

"Authentic Government statistics show that we have in this country today 16,500,000 foreign-born and 7,500,000 aliens and that we have somewhere in the neighborhood of 10,000,000 unemployed," he said. "A simple mathematical calculation shows that if there had been a shutting down of the bars and keeping out a large number of foreign-born, there would be no unemployment situation in America today.

"When it comes to the matter of determining who shall suffer—the American citizen out of a job or the alien who has a job—the Junior Order feels that as between the two it is the alien who should suffer. When he entered the country unlawfully, he knew he was violating our laws and subjecting himself to punishment. The American people are not responsible for the suffering of an illegally entered alien and there is no reason why our people should suffer in order to keep him from paying the price of his own misconduct.

Eckert Favors Army Promotion Bill In House

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 2.—Representative Charles L. Eckert of Beaver went on record this week as favoring promotions and pay increases for regular army officers.

Mr. Eckert voted for the army promotion bill when it passed the House of Representatives. The measure had been previously approved by the senate. It provides more rapid promotion of officers with corresponding pay increases.

Many regular army officers now stationed with Pennsylvania National Guard units will be eligible for promotion under the legislation.

Josiah---A Religious Reformer

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Math. 4:10—"Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and him only shalt thou serve."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for August 4, is II Kings 22:1-23:30—the Golden Text being Math. 4:10, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and him only shalt thou serve.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

OF THE 19 kings who ruled the southern kingdom of Judah, only five were righteous, viz., Asa, Jehoshaphat, Joash, Hezekiah and Josiah. For only half a century Josiah's father and grandfather had misruled the nation in wickedness and shameful idolotry. That Josiah should so arise above them in righteous service of God is doubtless due to his mother's influence upon his early years of childhood and the influence of the prophet Jeremiah over his later years.

Cleansing the Temple

Coming to the throne at the early age of eight years, "he did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord and walked in all the way of David, his father, and turned not aside to the right hand or the left. For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young, he began to seek after the God of David, his father; and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places and the asherins and the graven images and the molten images." In this connection he gave command for the cleansing of the temple of the things with which his father and grandfather had defiled it and made provision for the payment of the workmen engaged in the work of cleansing and repairing the house of God.

Finding the Lost Bible

In the course of this renovation they came upon a copy of the Law of Moses and delivered it to the youthful king. It was a book strangely new to him and as it was read to him he troubled and feared as he noted how his people had departed from this expressed Law and will of God. So always "by the law is the knowledge of sin."

Destruction and Constructive

The record of Josiah's reformation is replete with such drastic terms as "burned, put down, stamped it small and cost the powder thereof, break down, took away, beat them down, break in pieces, etc." But true reformation requires constructive measures more than destructive, spiritual weapons rather than physical force, formation as well as reformation. So Josiah gathered the people to hear the restored word of God and solemnly pledged himself and the nation "to keep his commandments with all his heart and all his soul." Furthermore, he "commanded all the people saying, keep the passover unto the Lord your God, as it is written in the book of the covenant." Thus did Josiah truly restore God's word and ordinances and set the nation a high example of righteousness and reverence.

The total length of sanitary sewers is 86.70 miles and storm sewers, 21.053 miles. Of the 49.334 miles paved are 26.740 miles of brick paving, 12.466 miles of concrete paving, 4.598 miles of Amiesite paving, less than a mile of Kentucky rock paving and small portions have been paved with Tarmac and Macadam or 8 inch broken stone and 2 inch limestone surface. The latter type was laid as a Works division project in a dirt alley from Grove street to the Old Knitting mill, dirt alley east from Mill street to the Old Knitting Mill, Cascade street and Rural avenue. It is proposed to pave many streets with amiesite as soon as the WPA acts on projects submitted by the city.

Tomato Products Are Increased

More Than Ten Thousand Acres In State Are Devoted To Culture Of Crop

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 2.—Pennsylvania is rapidly advancing to a foremost position in the production of high-quality, manufactured tomato products, according to the Bureau of Markets, Department of Agriculture, which reported a 200 per cent increase in the last six years in acreage of tomatoes grown for commercial canners.

More than 10,000 acres were devoted to tomatoes for canning last year as compared with 3,400 acres in 1929, the bureau said.

Many sections of the state are well adapted to the production of tomatoes, according to the bureau. When grown in the heavy soils common to this state, the crop has a higher color and greater meatiness than those produced on more sandy soils.

"In addition to this natural high quality, over three-fourths of the total acreage is purchased under state inspection. This accounts for the excellent reputation of tomato products canned in Pennsylvania. Records show that three of the largest processors of tomato products in the country, with world-wide outlets, purchase great quantities of raw tomatoes in this commonwealth."

The average price received by growers for graded tomatoes sold to canneries last year was $13.70 a ton, the bureau reported.

"With the market stronger this season and with quality excellent late in July, it is expected that the price may average even better for state-graded tomatoes this year," it said.

States To Unite In Crime Battle

Thirty-Five States Accept Invitations To Conference In October

EFFECTIVE SYSTEM NOW POSSIBLE

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 2.—Announcing that 35 states have accepted invitations to send representatives to a conference here Oct. 11 and 12 on the subject of co-operation among states in the war on crime, Governor Hoffman today made public a 9-point program which will be presented at that time.

"Adoption of the interstate crime compact bill permitting states to enter compacts in the prevention of crime and in the enforcement of their respective criminal laws and policies, makes it possible for the states to establish a system to effectively fight crime," the governor declared.

Nine Points

The nine points he will suggest be included in any compact agreed on are:

1—Authority for officers to pursue criminals across state lines and make arrests.

2—Authority for officers to serve criminal process (not pursuit cases) or make arrests in co-operating states.

3—Authority for officers to return fugities without existing extradition red tape.

4—Authority giving a co-operating state power to expel a man wanted in a neighboring state whether or not he is a fugitive.

5—Agreement providing for attendance of out of state witnesses at criminal trials.

New Trial Rights

6—An agreement whereby a state may try defendants for offenses committed in a neighboring state but which take effect in the former, or partly committed in the latter, or committed so close to a boundary line it is impossible to determine jurisdiction.

7—Agreement to supervise parolees of a co-operating state, upon the latter's agreement to do the same for first state.

8—An agreement authorizing a state to expel, or the demanding state to retake, parole violators, and others in the demanding state who do not come within the fugitive from justice classification.

9—Agreement for joint maintenance of identification and investigation bureaus, crime laboratories and border patrols.

Railway Labor Penson Approved

Interstate Commerce Commission Gives Tentative Approval To Plan

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.— The house interstate commerce committee today approved a tentative railway labor pension program designed to meet constituttional requirements.

The bill, by Rep. Crosser (D) Ohio, also asks special tax legislation whereby the railroads would contribute four per cent of their payrolls for the pension program through a federal excise levy. Workers would pay an additional two per cent income tax.

U. S. ARCHITECT TO ADVISE ON INDIA'S GREATEST TEMPLE

(International News Service)

CALCUTTA, Aug. 2.—A magnificent Hindu temple, higher than the famous Taj Mahal and the historic Tanjore temple in South India, is to be built at Benares, the focal point of the Hindu faith and reputedly the oldest city in India.

The temple, which is to be built in the grounds of the Hindu university, will be dedicated to the god Shiva. It will be 220 feet in height—far loftier than any other temple in India.

A distinguished Indian architect, Sris Chandpa Chatterjee, well-known for his efforts to revive the pure form of ancient Indian architecture, is designing it, but Harvey Wily Corbett, famous American skyscraper architect, has been invited to study Chatterjee's design, and give his opinion on it, together with any suggestion for improvement.

SEEK MOTIVE FOR TRAGEDY

(International News Service)

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 2.—Police today opened inquiries into the shooting of Mr. and Mrs. Otto L. Molter at their Severna park home last night.

The Molters were found in their home last night after shots had been heard by a neighbor. The woman was dead. Molter, who died a few hours later in a hospital here, was lying face downward in an adjoining room, a pistol clutched in his hand.

Magistrate Sandrock, who conducted an investigation this morning and inspected the scene of the shooting, said none of the investigators had been able to unearth a motive for the shooting. He said he had talked over business matters with Molter a few days ago and that the latter had seemed to be in the best of spirits.

Sandrock said that Mrs. Molter, formerly Mrs. Mary Grant of New York City, apparently had tried to escape from the dining room of the house as her husband appeared with the pistol. Molter had evidently fired three slugs before one of them struck his wife at the base of the skull. Two bullets entered the woman's head.

Germans Commemorate Two National Events

Commemorate Outbreak Of World War 21 Years Ago, And Hindenburg's Death

Adolf Hitler Has Cause For Satisfaction On Anniversary Of Power

By ERICH BOY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—Germany took off its hat and paused today in memory of events which altered its fate 21 years ago with the outbreak of the World War and one year ago with the death of President Von Hindenburg and the simultaneous assumption of all powers by Reichschancellor Adolf Hitler.

Flags on all public buildings commemorate the day and German newspapers hark back to these national turning points with various graphic accounts, while ceremonies of military and municipal nature are taking place everywhere In Tannenberg, where Hindenburg lies buried, wreaths were laid by army detachments and in Berlin the tomb of the Unknown Soldier received similar honors.

Hitler Strong

For the first two events the nation commemorates its heroes; the third is a red day in Nazi calendarism it brought Hitler to supreme command and transformed him into one of the world's strongest dictators, removing the last check of ruling powers that marked his chancellorship as long as President Von Hindenburg lived. The aged warrior to his last breath overshadowed in popular influence the party power of his last chancellor.

But today's anniversary in more than one way is cause for gloom to the white-bearded, exiled recluse who sits in Doorn, Holland, 21 years after he defied the world as kaiser of Germany. His defiance began his downfall, and since then things have gone from bad to worse for him.

Up to the day Von Hindenburg died there was a constant illusion in the heart of Wilhelm II that eventually he would be summoned back to the fatherland to witness the rebirth of the house of Hohenzollern.

Kaiser Disillusioned

But after Von Hindenburg's death, the ex-kaiser still looked hopefully to Hitler and was quickly disillusioned. The ex-crown prince, as intermediary, had little encouragement for his father, foreign exchange restrictions so pinched the exile's income that his son had to appeal to Hitler on behalf of his father.

Subsequent developments, according to reports from Doorn, have about convinced the ex-kaiser that little is to be hoped for from the Nazis and that all indications point to a permanent exile.

Hitler's own anniversary as complete dictator, however, leaves him cause for satisfaction, despite friction and struggle of party and state and church.

GREEN-EYED BLONDE IS SOUGHT AS SPY

(International News Service)

TOULIN—A beautiful young, green eyed blonde is being sought by French police and secret servicemen in connection with the arrest of an aviator here, charged with espionnage.

Warrent officer Paul Rolland, 27, was supected of selling military secrets and when arrested was discovered in possession of important documents and plans relating to latest types of French fighting and bomber airplanes.

Police state Rolland had been spending money lavishly while on vacation this year at the fashionable resorts of Hyeres and Carqueiranne, where he was constantly seen in the company of the green-eyed blonde.

The girl is believed to have fled over the Italian frontier.

SPRINGVILLE, Utah—A mother cat with her brood of kittens and a hen with an egg and hopes compromised their differences over possession of a nest. Mrs. Ross Breezoff who owns both, said the cat took possession of the nest when the hen vacated it to get something to eat. For two days fur and feathers flew. Then things quieted down. She found the cat and kittens occupying one side of the nest, while the hen sat on her egg in the other half.

CHINESE WORSHIP LIGHT FROM SIGN

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI—Crowds of superstitious persons have each night been worshipping before a mysterious red glow in the window of a school in the French concession here. Denies Whispering Campaign Started

(International News Service)

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 2—Declaring he had dropped the suggested "whispering campaign" against President Roosevelt of his own volition but that the senate lobby committee popped questions so quickly that he was prevented from giving a "true picture of his action," E. P. Cramer today issued a statement in defense of his testimoney before the Black committee at Watshington yesterday.

The statement handed out personally at Thomas A. Edison Inc., which employes Cramer, stated in part:

"I didn't suggest a whispering campaign, all I did was to write a letter suggestion that the stockholders organize to combat the attack on the utilities.

"The Senate Lobby Committee shot questions too fast to permit me to think before giving my answers. I would be glad to appear before the committee again.

Expect New Dam To Supply Jobs

Kittanning Sees Prospect Of Reduction In Unemployed List

KITTANNING, Pa., Aug. 2.—The local office of the nationol re-employment service is anticipating a rush of activity with the announcement that 90 per cent of labor on all federal construction projects will be selected from rolls compiled here.

The expected start of work on raising Dam No. 8, and the construction of Lock and Dam No. 9, has raised the hopes of many unemployed in this vicinity, with the result that there has been an influx of applicants through the NRS office here.

Federal government specifications on the new works program permit successful contractors to select 10 per cent of their workmen, the remaining 90 per cent being chosen from the rolls of the national re-employment service.

At least 200 men will be taken off the relief rolls and given employment for almost two years on the lock and dam construction project. Workmen from Ford City and Kittanning may be transported to the dam site, two miles above Rimerton, as the possibility of operating a gasoline car is being considered.

Engineers, superintendents and others of the executive forces that will direct the actual building of the dam are expected to arrive soon. Many will be accompanied by their families.

"MATTERHORN" OF ROCKIES ATTRACTS ALPINE CLIMBERS

(International News Service)

BANFF, Alta.—Mountain climbers from all parts of the United States and Canada are here for the three-week encampment of the Alpine Club of Canada in the nearby Mt. Assiniboine area.

The main camp is pitched on the shore of Lake Magog (7,200 feet) at the base of Mt. Assiniboine (11,870 feet), which is known as the Matterhorn of the Canadian Rockies and lies 32 miles south of the Alpine Clubhouse at Banff. This marks the Club's 30th annual encampment.

In addition to Mt. Assiniboine itself, the following peaks are to be scaled: Mt Eon (10,860 feet), Mt. Aye (10,640 feet), Mt. Magog (10,050 feet), Mt. Sturdee (10,300 feet), Mt. Marshall (10,465 feet), Mt. Gloria (9,500 feet), Mt. Aurora (8,500 feet), Mt. Alcantara (9,910 feet), and Mt. Brusiloff (9,990 feet).

A trail blazed almost a century ago by Sir George Simpson, discoverer of Simpson Pass in the Canadian Rockies, now is being recut by the parks branch of the Canadian Government, and will be retraced for the first time in August by the Sky Line Trail Hikers of the Canadian Rockies, whose annual 4-day trek, from August 2 to 5 inclusive, will traverse the Egypt Lake region via Simpson Pass.

While Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, Simpson made a 20 months' trip around the world, duly recorded in his famous "Narration." He discovered the pass on his thousand-mile crossing of the Canadian Rockies, which took him and his guide just 25 days, a hiking average of 40 miles daily. In 1900 Jim Brewster of Banff went up Healy Creek and over the pass with Bill Potts, the famous guide, to seek some trace of this first passage. They found a tree, recent fallen, on which was cut the three-line inscription: "G. S.—J. R.—1841." The letters "J. R." stand for James Rowland, fur trader, who was on the journey.

Brewster, a charter member of the trail hikers, will accompany the August hike, led by N B. Sanson of Banff, who has walked some 10,000 miles of trail in the Canadian Rockies.

Last Of World War Horses Now Lives In Luxury

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Aug. 2.—Thirty-four years ago, some one christened him "Chico". And "Chico" he still is today—this wonder horse of the American army and pal of Major General John H. Sherburne.

Going blind, his once huge yet graceful frame that proudly led American troops into battles in the World War and Mexican border slightly sagged and weakened, "Chico" is at the stables of the 26th Division at Commonwealth Armory, there to spend the remainder of his days far from shot and shell.

"Chico" holds the unique distinction of being survivor of the horses that served as mounts for A. E. F. officers in the war. He survived an explosion and wound.

In a box stall in the finest quarters of the stable at the Armory, "Chico" eats, sleeps and idles, tended by his "confidante", Sergeant William P. Meyers, aide to Gen. Sherburne during the War.

Germany's Champ Child Town Found

(International News Service)

MUNICH, Ang. 2.—The town in Germany with the highest percentage of "rich-in-children" families, or families with three or more children, has at last been discovered by Nazi research.

It is Pirmasens, Western Bavaria. Pirmasens has a total population of 50,000, with over 3,600 "rich-in-children" families. This is more than three times the average for the rest of Germany.

The mayor of Pirmasens has declared a municipal holiday to celebrate "the honor that has befallen our city" and to arrange for distribution of cash bonuses of five marks, seven pfennigs (about $2) to families with three children, and 12 marks, 60 pfennigs (about $5) to families with six.

OUTLOOK FAVORS POULTRY INDUSTRY

HARRISBURG—The outlook is favorable for poultry producers during the remainder of 1935, according to a report issued by the federal bureau of agricultural economics.

Egg and poultry prices which have averaged higher than last year, are likely to continue above the 1934 level, the report indicated.

The supply of fresh eggs probably will be slightly larger than last year, but the supply of shell eggs in storage is much smaller, which means that cold storage stocks will give less competition to the fresh-egg supply than a year ago.

The feed situation is also much more promising than last year which adds to the optimistic picture of the poultry business for the immediate future.

TIGERS INCREASE LEAD IN LEAGUE

By TONY PUGLIESE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—With the Detroit Tigers cruising along at the top of the heap in the American League, with a three and a half game advantage over the New York Yankees, it might be well to bestow a few laurel wreaths on Hank Greenberg, lanky first baseman of Mickey Cochrane's team.

For Hank, former resident of New York's Bronx, is fast making a record for himself as slugger of the junior circuit. Greenberg today is either leader or runnerup in every department of offensive play in the league.

Greenberg Hitting

His batting average of .337 places him second to Joe Vosmik, of the Indians with 83 to his credit. Hank is also second man in the circuit in runs scored. But these two features of his play fall far short of telling the story of his rise.

Greenberg leads the league in runs batted in, with 122; in most hits, with 138; in total bases, with 276; in most doubles, with 34; in most home runs, with 28; and he is among the leaders with 10 triples. In other words, Hank comes as close to being a one man team, as a single player can, for his defensive play is Grade A.

Three Hits

In the 6 to 3 defeat of the St. Louis Browns by the Tigers yesterday, Greenberg made three hits in four trips to the plate. General Alvin Crowder held the Brownies in check for eight innings, but weakened in the ninth as the St. Louis boys scored three runs. Hogsett finished the game, as the Tigers gained another half a game on the idle New York Yankees.

The Chicago White Sox with a chance to catch the Yanks in second place, faltered and surrendered the final game of the series to the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 3.

Aided by Buddy Myers's homer with one on, the Washington Senators behind a 17 hit assault on Hockette, Walberg and Rhodes, defeated the Boston Red Sox 9 to 5.

Pirates Win

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs again faltered with a virtual tie for the leadership in view, as they went down before the Pittsburgh Pirates again, 6 to 5.

Frankie Frisch shot up his lineup, benching Pepper Martin in favor of Charley Gelbert, and the result was a 7 to 5 win for the St. Louis Cardinals over the troublesome Cincinnati Reds. Dizzy Dean was credited with his 17th win, although Hausser and Hallahan followed him to the hill.

Paced by the veteran Tom Zachary, who pitched his typical steady game, the Brooklyn Dodgers took the measure of the Boston Braves, 4 to 2.

No. 1 Grid Favorite

Don Hutson, Alabama end, who caught the forward passes which upset Stanford in the last Rose Bowl game got the most votes when fans were asked to help select the College All-Star team which will meet the professional Chicago Bears in Chicago August 29, for charity.

LEAGUE SEASON END GROWS NEAR

Season Ends Within Two Weeks; Games Carded Saturday And Sunday

Judging from the number of games played by Lawrence County Baseball league clubs, some of them have several postponed games to play off. With the season scheduled to close within the next two weeks President Alex Samuels will issue instructions to have them played as soon as possible.

Mahoning got away to a slow start through no fault of themselves and has won four games and dropped two which is not as good a record as the A S & T P has of having won all but one of seven games Carbon has been forcing Mahoning to hustle with three lost of seven games played.

There will be one game in the city and three in county sections Saturday. Bessemer, 1934 champions who deadlocked Carbon, Wednesday, will play Ryantown and with no other league games in the city fans will flock to the end of Sampson street where Ryantown plays at home.

The American Sheet & Tin Plate team, league leaders will journey to Carbon. Carbon has the faculty of tripping up leaders and may come through Saturday. The Tin Platers want to win to keep on edge for their benefit game Sunday with the Youngstown Civics at Centennial field.

Mahoning will round out the schedule Saturday by playing Wampum at Wampum. Indications are that Mahoning will tack up another win. They are in second place while Wampum holds the seventh rung on the Lawrence circuit ladder.

The Sanday schedule calls for Wampum to play at Carbon, Ryantown at Mahoning and Bessemer at West Pittsburg.

Frank Steele "Man Of Hour"

Conqueror Of Vince Dundee By Knockout Drops Is Muchly Sought Boxer

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Proving that it is always on the alert to get the best with the greatest possible delay, Madison Square Garden spent the better part of yesterday afternoon trying to find out just who and also where is Freddy Steele who knocked Vince Dundee so totally out in an early round the other night. The Garden absolutely on its toes or somebody else's apparently never heard of Steele who is, practically unknown, except maybe in the headlines. This is positively an excellent way to avoid publicity. So is a billboard.

Anyhow, the Garden is looking for the young man, although, at that, it might be simpler to find Vince Dundee. He'll be in a Seattle hospital for a week or so while they're sorting the fragments of his chin and wiring them for dialogue.

First Knockout

A former middleweight champion, he had never been knocked out before, but this one will do until such time as they go in there and start playing with paving blocks. He was on the rostrum or dias eleven times in one round, establishing a new endurance record.

Steele, they say, is one of the best right hand hitters developed in years, with a series of knockouts over Ceferino Garcia, Joe Glick, Andy Divodi, Bucky Lawless and finally Dundee. They also say that the young man has done all right for himself on the west coast, having grossed upward of $30,000 in personal finances recently, with apparently a good gate coming up, if they make the proposed match with young Corbett 3rd.

MAY SAVE FORMER PRESIDENT'S HOME

LANCASTER Pa—Historic Wheatland, the home of James Buchanan, the bachelor president, may go under the auctioneer's hammer this fall unless a $100,000 Junior League campaign to purchase the estate and convert it into a public shrine is successful

The stately old mansion a veritable treasure of antiques, is still almost the same as when Pennsylvania's only occupant of the White House brought the politically great of the nation there to dine and discuss with him affairs of state. It was built in the early 1800's.

"Buch der Lieder" (Song of Songs) by Heinrich Heine, the famous German poet, has just been translated in Armenian.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Market Presents Irregular Appearance As Reactionary Tendencies Set In

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The stock market presented an irregular appearance today as reactionary tendencies in industrials offset fresh strength in utilities

The power shares rushed up to new highs at the opening under heavy buying in response to the house defeat of the newest administration drive to restore the "death sentence" in the holding company bill.

Industrials displayed heaviness with losses of a point and more sustained by such issues as U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, American Can, Chrysler and Case Threshing.

Volume of trading which was heavy at the start dwindled noticeably on the reaction and a firmer tone developed toward noon.

Rails received only a temporary fillip from the house passage of the bus and truck bill and quickly lost their early gains. Atchison sold down a point.

Tractions were in demand, renewed on rumors of earyl unification developments.

Motor shares were in supply with low-priced shares. Reactionaly after their recent spurt. General Motors was supported in advance of next week's dividend meeting.

There was a flurry in the communications with American Telephone and International Telephone at new highs. Greyhound was strong in the specialties. Other groups did little.

Grains quieted down in commodities while cotton was firmer. Gold currencies were strong in foreign exchanges.

Union Workers Protest Wages

Union Workers Want Regular Union Prices On Relief Works Projects

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2.—Reiterating their demands for prevailing union wage rates on works progress administration projects, union workers today threatened to refuse work on the projects unless their demands are met.

Spokesmen for organized labor in the district warned that union men will strike on the projects if the prevailing union rates are not adhered to. The demands were voiced at sessions of the Pittsburgh Central Labor Union conference here.

Demands Set Forth

Demands of the workers were set forth in a motion, adopted unanimously which read as follows:

"That union labor hereby gives notice that if any effort is made on construction jobs under the WPA to pay wages anything less than the prevailing union wage rate, those jobs shall be struck and union workmen shall refuse to work on them."

Dentists Hear New Regulations

Dr. C. J. Hollister Of Harrisburg, Explains New Rules For Relief Work

Thursday evening in court room number one of the Lawrence county court house a large gathering of dentists from Lawrence, Butler and Mercer counties, together with the staff members of the local relief office, was held for the purpose of hearing Dr. C. J. Hollister of Harrisburg explain to the dentists and the relief workers the new and drastic regulations that have been set up by the department, for the handling of dental patients.

Many changes in the method and the type of dental order went into effect thru out the state yesterday, and it was the interpretation of these changes that brought Dr. Hollister here. Drastic revisions down wards in the amount each recipient may receive in dental work has been effected in order that the work may be spread over a greater number of patients, and thereby do the most good by relieving suffering for a greater number. The extraction of aching teeth in limited numbers for each patient is almost the maximum of the work that can now be accomplished. No provision is made for plates to supply the missing teeth.

J. W. Moorhead, executive director of this area of the SERB opened the meeting, then turned same over to Dr. J. A. Meehan, of the local dental advisory committee, of the SERB, who was chairman of the evening. Dr. Meehan, explained in brief the efforts of the dental profession to improve the relief picture from a dental standpoint and then introduced Dr. Hollister, dental division, SERB, who went into detail on the many technical and professional changes that have been effected. Ninety dentists were in attendance, as well as forty five members of the area SERB staff.

Youth To Start Labor Service

Compulsory Program For German Youth To Begin October 1

EXPECT 200,000 TO ANSWER CALL

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—Compulsory labor service for the youth of Germany will begin October 1, it was announced officially today as a call for more than 200,000 recruits born in 1915 was sent throughout the Reich.

Labor service is compulsory at the age of 19, and is aimed at making "thoroughgoing Nazis" of every man and woman growing up in the Hitler Reich.

Young women, too, eventually will be compelled to serve, although today's announcement stated such service would be voluntary until the fall of 1937.

A call for a second 200,000 to report next April 1 was expected to be issued in due time. Unless permission to postpone labor service is granted specifically by authorities, it becomes compulsory automatically at the age of 19. Volunteers may serve even earlier.

Labor service is officially described as "honorary service," and thus Jews and any persons who have lost some or all of their citizenship privileges are forbidden to serve.

Most of the youth of Germany already are reconciled to labor service as part of military service—every male citizen now is drafted for state service for a total of 18 months.

Young girls, however, generally do not look forward to the labor camps with such satisfaction, and their parents may oppose the move as likely to have adverse pyschological and physical effects as a result of regimented camp life.

Government Will Not Take Appeal On Adverse Decree In Republic Merger

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—Federal efforts to restrain the consolidation of the Republic Steel Corporation, and the Corrigan and McKinney Corporation, ended today when Attorney General Cummings announced that the Department of Justice "has determined that an appeal will not be taken from the adverse decree" of June 13, by the federal court for the Northern Ohio district.

The government sought to interfere with the merger under the Clayton anti-trust act and brought suit for injunction on Aug. 27, 1934. Besides the companies named, the agreement included four subsidiaries of the Corrigan-McKinney Steel Company, the Newton Steel Company, the N. and G. Taylor Company, the McKinney Steel Holding Company, and the Cleveland Cliff Iron Company.

In announcing further disinterest of the government Attorney Governor Cummings said:

"This case was brought in order that the agreement should be submitted to judicial scrutiny. It was fully tried and under the facts as found, the court pronounced the proposed transaction legal. In view of this holding, as to the particular situation developed at the trial, it has been concluded that an appeal would be unavailing."
